THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

It Was a Republican Love Feast All Through.

HARMONY REIGNED SUPREME

John P. Harris, of Bellefonte, and George W. Hoover of Philipsburg, Elected Delegates to the State Convention.

GO TO HARRISBURG UNINSTRUCTED

One of the most harmonious gatherings ever held by the Republican party in Centre county was the convention which met in the Court House here at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Everything went along as smoothly as could be desired and the friction and disputes that have marked the conventions in past years were entirely absent. It was a regular love feast of the old-fashioned Methodist order.

The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by County Chairman Wilbur F. Reeder and the call for the convention was read and roll called by Secretary S. W. Rees.

William E. Gray placed in nomination Col. Austin Curtin, of Roland, for permanent chairman. His nomination was duly seconded and he was elected by acclamation. He made a graceful speech on assuming the chair.

G. W. Rees, of Bellefonte, was made reading clerk, and Dr. S. M. Hall, of Milesburg, and Benner W. Way, of Benner township, secretaries.

The chair then appointed the following committee on resolutions: Col. James P. Coburn, of Haines twp, chairman; Wm. E. Gray, of Bellefonte; W. C. Harter, of State College; T. R. Dobbs, of Rush; W. S. Holter, of Liberty.

The next thing in order was the naming of candidates for delegates to the State convention. John P. Harris, of Bellefonte, was placed in nomination by John Gowland, of Philipsburg, and Captain Harry Simler, of Philipsburg, nominated George W. Hoover, of the same place.

They were then elected by acclamation. There are no instructions as to how they shall vote for Governor.

Edmund Blanchard, of Bellefonte, moved, seconded by Hon. P. E. Womelsdorf, of Philipsburg, that the county chairman be authorized to appoint a committee of five to formulate rules for the governing of nominations by the Republican party. The motion carried.

W. E. Gray read a list of rules for governing the meeting of conferees in this the 21st congressional district and moved their adoption. The motion was carried.

After the reading of the resolutions by Colonel Coburn, which were adopted as read, the convention adjourned.

The resolutions are as follows:

WE, the Republicans of Centre county in convention assembled; hereby renew our allegiance to the principles, traditions and policy of the Republican party; and to that party and its doctrines we again pledge our united and constant support.

Resolved, That we point with pride to the wise and patriotic administration of President Roosevelt and approve the carrying out by him of the policy of his lamented predecessor, President McKinley. We laud his effort to retain the position of dignity and honor which the nation has assumed among the nations of the earth in statehood, in business enterprise and in manhood. We believe that a continuation of this policy will bring to our people for years to come the greatest degree of material prosperity in all lines of industry and the highest measure of happiness and contentment among all classes.

Resolved, That we pledge to the State ticket, to be named by the Republican State convention at Harrisburg on June 11th, and to the County ticket, to be named later, the united support of every Republican in Centre county; and that we promise to the Republicans of Pennsylvania that Centre county shall again be numbered with the Republican counties of the Commonwealth in November next.

What the House May Do.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—During the coming week the house probably will act on three important bills which the rules committee decided some time ago to bring before that body at the earliest opportunity. These are the anti-anarchy bill, the Pacific cable bill and the senate irrigation bill. No time limit is to be set on the anti-anarchy bill, consideration of which will be entered on today, but it is not believed that it will occupy more than two days. A day is to be given to the bill for the government cable to the Philippines and three days to the irrigation bill.

—Mr. Frank Davis, of East Logan St., is confined to his home with lumbago. We hope his illness will be of short duration.

A Pipe Organ for the Catholic Church.

At the morning service Sunday at St. John's Catholic church Rev. P. McArdle, pastor, read the following letter from the Beezer brothers who are at present located at Pittsburg, and among the most prominent architects of the Smokey city. The letter explains itself:

PITTSBURG, Pa. May 29th, 1901.

MRS. ANDREW M. MOTT,
Bellefonte, Pa.

KIND FRIEND:—

Your mentioning to me Monday afternoon of the fact, that a new Organ for St. John's Catholic Church was one of the needed improvements desired by our good, dear friend, Father McArdle, and his parishioners, suggested a privilege which my brother and myself would be most happy to be allowed to consummate.

This matter brings up many recollections of our boyhood days, when in the old Church Building we first contemplated the beauties of our religion and where we received the Holy Sacraments in our infancy and youth. No matter what may be the changes in after life and its surroundings, the memories of younger days will always follow and touch the nobler and better elements of mind and heart.

We are also in the happy possession of a good and most kind mother and father (communicants in your Church) to whom we owe a great debt of gratitude. Their kindness, good example, and the many sacrifices made in our behalf has been one of the great contributing factors to our success in life.

The most coveted joy to which we now aspire is to please and honor them. We hope that the gift of the new pipe organ to your Church will add to their sum of happiness in old age and that for many years to come they will be hearers of its sacred chords. We do not wish to erect this organ as a memorial to our parents, since at a more opportune time (if, in life and God's will it) we will give them a most worthy and durable memorial. We offer it to your Church for the love of God and the advantage of your congregation.

We kindly ask you to report to the Rector, Reverend Father McArdle; that with his permission, we will have erected at our expense in your Church a new pipe Organ to cost not less than One Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($1,500.) We would be glad to have the work commenced at once and completed as soon as possible.

Very Sincerely,
M. J. BEEZER.
LOUIS BEEZER

The will of the Late Henry C. McCormick.

The will of the late Henry Clay McCormick was filed Saturday morning in the register and recorder's office. It is a very brief document. It gives Mrs. Nellie McCormick-Cochran and John McCormick, daughter and son, respectively, $2,000 each, to be paid one year after his death. All other property, of wherever located, goes to his wife, Mrs. Ida Hays McCormick. She is appointed executor and is not required to make any inventory or statement concerning the estate.

Mr. McCormick carried $160,600 life insurance. Of this amount $100,000 was taken out last December in the Penn Mutual of Philadelphia. At that time Mr. McCormick underwent a special examination at Philadelphia, and a representative of the company stated Friday that the microscopic and other tests indicated a perfect physical condition. The remainder of the insurance was principally with the Provident Life and Trust of Philadelphia.

A Pretty but Quiet Wedding at Centre Hall.

On Wednesday evening at eight o'clock the beautiful farm home of Mrs. Mary E. Burkholder at Centre Hall was the scene of gay festivities. It was the giving in marriage of her only daughter Miss Effie E. to Mr. Bruce Wilbur Ripka of the same place.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Kerschner of Centre Hall, and was witnessed only by the immediate friends and relatives of the family. After this happy young couple had been made man and wife, an excellent wedding dinner was served.

Mr. Ripka is an industrious, ambitious farmers son and has many friends all through Penns Valley, his bride is an accomplished young lady who will make him a fitting helpmate through life. The REPUBLICAN joins with their hosts of friends and wishes them unbounded success on their matrimonial voyage, and in the words of Rip Van Winkle "May they live long and be happy."

THE JUNIOR ORATORICALS.

Held by the Students of the High School Junior Class.

MONDAY EVENING IN PETRIKIN HALL

Miss Carrie W. Miller Takes First Prize and Miss Martha F. King Second—The Prizes Are the Gift of Colonel W. Fred Reynolds.

A LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT

The annual contest of the Junior Class of the Bellefonte High School for the Reynolds Oratorical prizes was held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Petrikin Hall. As usual on such occasions there was a large audience present.

The stage was very prettily decorated with American flags, the class colors, blue and gray, and the school colors, red and white. The stage setting was very pretty indeed, the contestants, ten in number, sitting in a semi-circle on the stage with Prof. John D. Meyer, the principal, sitting at the right.

After the benediction by Rev. W. P. Shriner the different speakers were introduced by Prof. Meyer. It would take too long to go into detail in regard to the merits of each speaker, suffice is to say that each one acquitted himself or herself admirably and the task which the judges had before them to decide was indeed a difficult one.

The judges on this occasion were Prof. G. G. Pond, of State College; Rev. Walter F. Carson, of Milesburg, and Rev. Ambrose Schmidt, of Bellefonte. At the close of the contest the judges retired and in a few minutes they returned and Prof. Pond ascended the stage and in a happy manner announced the winners. The first prize of ten dollars was awarded to Miss Carrie W. Miller and the second prize of five dollars to Miss Martha F. King.

The music for the occasion was furnished by Christy Smith's orchestra and many compliments were passed on their excellent playing.

The contestants had been under instruction of their teachers in preparation for this event for several weeks and showed the good effect of their training. The exercises were as follows:

Hundreds Search for Missing Boy.

A lost boy in the woods of Potter county was the occasion of the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad sending out a special train of eight coaches Sunday morning with free transportation for volunteers to search for the lad. The word was passed along the lumber camps and about seven hundred persons assembled Sunday morning at the Galeton station. Placards had been posted announcing that the Goodyears, owners of the road, had generously donated a train to search for Sherman Campbell, the 12 year old son of Henry C. Campbell, who was lost in the woods on Fox mountain, between Ulysses and Brookland.

Almost every able-bodied man in Potter county responded to the appeal. It was found necessary to add four box cars for the dogs that were brought along by the searchers.

The boy has been missing for eight days and when last seen was driving a cow on a trail that led from a lumber camp to his home in Ulysses.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

Delivered by Rev. George Israel Brown to the High School Graduating Class.

St. John's Episcopal church was crowded with people Sunday evening to listen to the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. Geo. Israel Brown to the members of the graduating class of the Bellefonte High school. Promptly at 7:30 o'clock the graduates entered the church from the front preceded by Rev. Brown and the choir. Seats had been reserved for the class near the chancel.

The services were very interesting throughout and the singing was especially fine Rev. Brown preached an eloquent sermon from the following text:

Luke 5-4th verse-"Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught." The High school motto "Launched, where to anchor?" was the idea which suggested the text and the line of thought. Rev. Brown began by mentioning the habit of Christ of fastening on and uncovering the essential features of every occasion of life and bringing out the fundamental realities at the bottom of every event. The graduation is the focus point of life and full of meaning to the individual and the community. Full of unknown promises and possibilities for the future. He expressed the hope that some word of his would help to bring out the highest significance of the present occasion. Their motto is a very wise one inasmuch as it looked ahead to the goal of life, as typifying the modern spirit of mastery of all that life contains. The purpose of a ship is to carry riches safely to a harbor and to extract from beneath the surface of the water sustenance and treasure. He said that he hoped all the class were familiar with Longfellow's poem "The Launching of the Ship," and would thoroughly digest its high teaching.

He then defined education as giving poise, and as making them open to ideas from all sources and to extract rich experience from the deep mysteries of life. When Christ said "Be ye Perfect as your Father who is in Heaven is perfect." He did not mean simply to be righteous, or to be holy, or to be religious, but to be complete, to have characters fully rounded, and to touch life on all sides, and to be in sympathy with every aspect of it as the creator is. The man who leaves his religious side undeveloped is only playing and splashing on the surface of the water of life and does not discover the treasures of the deep, where, and where alone lies the pearl of great price.

He asked in succession whether the real haven where they wanted to anchor and the complete motive of life was self or not. The answer was "yes" partly and also "no" for that was but a fragment of the real full definition and the same is true of the family, the town and the state and the nation and the world and we only reached a satisfactory conclusion when we brought in the majestic ideas of God and duty and sacrifice.

In closing he said the lesson which the age was learning splendidly was the warning which Kipling gave us in the "Recessional" "Lord God of hosts, lest we forget, lest we forget," that it is by righteousness that a nation exalts itself and so also each one of us are our own rule.

CENTRE COUNTY DEMOCRATS

Held Their County Convention Here on Tuesday.

FULL TICKET PLACED IN FIELD

Hon. John A. Woodward Endorsed for Governor—Honest John Dunlap Gets a Rotten Deal.

USUAL CLAP-TRAP RESOLUTIONS

Tuesday was Democracy's day in Bellefonte and the unterrified came to town in force. A full county ticket was to be placed in nomination, and, hungry for office, the politicians big and little crowded to the county seat. Although the convention did not meet until noon Tuesday they began to arrive Monday evening, and deals of all kinds were set up only to be knocked down again. The primaries of Saturday made plain who would be nominated for all the offices except commissioner and treasurer. On these offices the fight was centered. John Dunlap, of Spring township, developed unexpected strength for commissioner, having 31 delegates instructed for him. He is a poor man and made his canvass over the county on foot. His nomination, however, was distasteful to a ring of Bellefonte politicians, and although he had been doing the dirty work for them for years, they entered into a deal to turn him down. This aroused a great deal of bitterness among Dunlap's friends. The Democracy's idea seems to be that a poor man had no right to run for office. The attempt to turn down Dunlap almost resulted in the defeat of Rowe, of Philipsburg for recorder.

The convention was called to order at 12 o'clock by County Chairman John J. Bower. The call for the convention was read by S. D. Gettig, Esq. Col. J. L. Spangler nominated Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., for permanent chairman, and the nomination being duly seconded he was named by acclamation. He made the usual claptrap speech on taking the chair, in which everything republican was assailed with unreasoning hatred.

The convention then organized as follows: H. D. Rumberger, of Philipsburg, reading clerk; Henry Kohlbecker and S. W. Keister, secretaries; R. C. Gilliland, of Snow Shoe, and W. H. Limbert of Haines, tellers.

Wm. G. Runkle, H. T. McDowell and C. E. Wheland were selected as a committee on credentials.

The committee on resolutions were then named as follows: Col. J. L. Spangler, of Bellefonte, chairman; John Johnson, of Philipsburg; A. M. Butler, of Howard; W. F. Bradford, of Potter; W. B. Haines, of Miles.

Hon. W. C. Heinle was then placed in nomination as Centre county's candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator in this district. The conferees are Capt. W. C. Pattison, of State College; John Q. Miles, of Port Matilda; Henry Meyer, of Huston Twp.

J. H. Wetzel, of Bellefonte, and J. Will Kepler, of Pine Grove Mills, were nominated for the legislature by acclamation, Robert M. Foster's name being withdrawn.

Hugh S. Taylor was named for sheriff by acclamation, Burdine Butler withdrawing his name in a spread eagle speech which excited much laughter.

A. G. Archey, of Ferguson Twp., was renominated for register without opposition, and J. C. Rowe, of Philipsburg, was selected for recorder on the first ballot over Frank Foreman, of Centre Hall, the vote being 46 to 40.

There were only two candidates named for county treasurer—W. J. Carlin, of Rebersburg, and A. Z. Zerby, of Penn Twp. The vote stood Carlin 51½, Zerby 34½. The result was Carlin without a struggle.

This brought the convention to the big struggle of the day the nomination of candidates for commissioner: P. H. Meyer, of Harris; Wm. E. Frank, of Rush Twp.; Henry Heaton, of Boggs Twp.; I. S. Frain, of Marion Twp.; John Dunlap, of Spring Twp.; E. A. Humpton, of Snow Shoe.

John Dunlap was undoubtedly the choice of the people but the Bellefonte ring ruled him out and he fell outside the breast works in the following manner:

Meyer	79
Frank	18	14	16
Heaton	2	2
Frain	19	21	19	22
Dunlap	30	29	29	30	36
Humpton	22	21	21	34	50

Meyer and Humpton were therefore declared the nominees and thus was the behest of the bosses carried out.

William H. Tibbens and J. H. Beck were nominated by acclamation for auditors.

P. J. McDonald, W. Harrison Walker and John Todd were chosen as congressional conferees.

Col. J. L. Spangler, John Noll, John Johnson and M. S. McDowell were elected delegates to the state convention which meets at Erie, and were instructed for John A. Woodward for governor.

The resolutions which were adoped by this convention were quite lengthy and attack the Republican state and national administrations, the last legislature and the trusts. They were read by Col. Spangler, but very few delegates remained to hear them and those who did had a bored look.

Sheriff Cyrus Brungart was unanimously elected county chairman for the ensuing year.

Rules Adopted for Governing the Nomination of Candidates for Congress.

The Republican county convention on Monday adopted the following rules for governing the nomination of candidates for congress by the Republican counties in this Congressional district. These rules had been previously adopted at a convention of conferees held at DuBois, January 15th, 1902.

1. Republican primary election in the counties of Centre, Clearfield, Cameron McKean, composing the 21st congressional district of Pennsylvania, at which a candidate for nomination for representation in congress is to be voted for, shall be held on the same date, provided the chairman of the Republican county committees of said counties agree thereto. In case the county chairmen fail to agree upon a date for the holding of primary elections, then such primary election shall be held as provided by the rules of the respective counties comprising the 21st congressional district.

2. Congressional conferees shall be appointed as per rules of the party in their respective counties and shall meet at DuBois, Pa. on the second Tuesday following the date on which the last primary in the district was held, but not later than August 15; and the conference may adjourn from time to time to such place and to such place as they may see fit.

3. That each county in the district in all congressional conferences shall be entitled to three conferees or delegates to be elected by each county in accordance with their respective rules; provided, however, that after the first day's session of the conference no nomination is made, that an adjournment shall be had for not more than one week nor less than five days; and when the conference is re-convened and ten ballots shall have been taken and no nomination is made then each county's representative shall be thereafter as follows: Three votes absolutely and one additional for each 1,000 Republican voters or majority fraction thereof, polled at the last presidential election. After ten more ballots have been had and no nomination made then the candidate receiving the lowest number of votes shall be dropped, and so to continue on each succeeding ballot until a nomination is made. And it is further provided that any one or more conferees or delegates present from any county shall cast the full vote to which it is entitled.

4. The conferees, or a majority of them, upon convening as provided in Rule 2, shall proceed to organize the conference by electing a chairman, secretary and two tellers.

5. A majority of all conferees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business coming before the conference, and a majority vote of the conferees present and voting shall nominate a candidate for congress, in accordance with rule 3.

6. In case of the death or withdrawal of the nominee or a conferee before the day of election, the chairman of the conference nominating such person shall immediately reconvene the conference, and said conference shall nominate in accordance with these rules a person to fill the vacancy so occurring.

7. It shall be the duty of the chairman and secretary of the conference to certify the nomination made under these rules, as the law may provide.

8. These rules may be amended at any time by a committee consisting of three members from each county, authorized by the respective county conventions for that purpose.

9. Each county shall in reasonable time before the national presidential convention select conferees to elect delegates to the national convention, and the conferees shall meet for such purpose at a time and place agree upon by the respective county chairman.

An Interesting Meeting.

The W. C. T. U., meeting in Petrikin Hall Sunday afternoon at 2:30 proved one of the best held for some time. The leader was James H. Rine who made an interesting talk on "Are young men safe," bringing out many thoughts of value to his hearers. Another bright feature of the meeting was a beautiful solo rendered by Mrs. Thos. R. Hayes entitled "Where is my Wandering Boy To-night," which was highly enjoyed by all present. These meetings are growing in interest and the attendance is increasing each week.

—The 18th, 14th, 10th, Regiments N. G. P., Battery B, and Sheridan Troop of Tyrone will all attend the unveiling of a monument at Pittsburg on the 4th of July.

Additional Locals.

—Ground will be broken in a few days for the new hospital building at Lock Haven.

—On the first indication of kidney trouble, stop it by taking Foley's Kidney Cure. C. M. Parrish.

—F. E. Gainey has purchased the lot on East High street between the home of Dr. E. S. Ellenworth and A. C. Mingle and expects to build a fine home on it for himself. It was the property of C. M. Bower.

—No good health unless the kidneys are sound. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys right. C. M. Parrish.

—Frank Delige, colored, died in the Lock Haven hospital Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock of consumption. His remains were brought to Bellefonte Friday morning for interment. He was 19 years of age and was the son of Mrs. Caroline Delige of this place.

—Chronic bronchial troubles and summer coughs can be quickly relieved and cured by Foley's Honey and Tar. C. M. Parrish.

—The fifty-second commencement of Bucknell University will take place on June 13 to 18, 1902. The program is now nearly completed, and it is expected that the commencement will rank in every respect among the best in the history of the institution.

—During the summer the kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. C. M. Parrish.

—Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Edgar Stover and Alverna H. Hosterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hosterman, of Woodward. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents this Thursday, June 5, at 11.30 a. m.

—The school board of Spangler borough is in a peculiar embarrassing plight over the mysterious disappearance of all the records, minutes, etc., from the private desks of both the secretary and treasures. No clue to the thieving has yet been found.

—Philip Iddings of Unionville purchased the Penn'a restaurant in Philipsburg and opened up the same on Wednesday. He is a clever fellow and will make it his aim to keep everything in the eating line and will treat everybody who favors him with patronage just right. It will be a strictly temperance house.

—The one story house at Beech Creek which was used by a club known as "The Indians" of Tyrone, was burned Wednesday night. The house was furnished with beds, bedding, dishes and furniture, all of which was burned. The origin of the flames is supposed to be incendiary. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

—James Harris is having a coping and railing put along the inside of the pavement in front of the Petrikin Hall on High street, which not only improves the looks but is a safeguard from accidents. The new stone steps in front of the entrance and the stone work being pointed are also an improvement to the surroundings.

—Mrs. Marcy Breese and Miss E. M. Thomas are going to close their home on east Curtin street and establish one in Dowingtown, where the former's son, Andrew, has a good position. Mrs. Emily C. Merriman has leased the house they now occupy and will move into it from Robert Valentine's house on Allegheny and Curtin streets where she now has her home, upon her return from a three months' visit out of town.

—The south side of the Reynolds Block on High street next to Temple Court, is giving away and Col. Reynolds is having a cement foundation put down at that corner so as to brace it up. The indications are that some day the entire corner will have to be taken down and rebuilt again from its foundation. It is one of the best buildings in the town and it is a great pity that it is defective at this point. The cement foundation will be an improvement.

—The illustrations in the June "Everybody's" are certainly of unusual beauty, variety and value. Howard Pyle illustrates the character study of Wm. Phips. Orson Lowell contributes pictures for "Danny." Some exceedingly clever illustrations by Frederick Richardson accompanies "Alice and the Golph-Lynx." C. D. Williams, R. N. Hyde, Gustav Verbeek, Murray McKay, John Cecil Clay, C. E. Hooper and Lee Woodward Zeigler are also represented.

—Nature "makes all things beautiful in their time." Every one of life's seasons, when life moves on Nature's lines, has its own charm and beauty. Many women dread that period when they must experience change of life. They fear that face and form may suffer by the change, and that they may fail to please those whom they love. The value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in this crisis of woman's life lies in the fact that it assists Nature. Its use preserves the balance and buoyancy of the mind and sustains the physical powers. Many women have expressed their gratitude for the help and comfort given by "Favorite Prescription" in this trying period. Its benefits are not passing but permanent and conduce to mental happiness as well as physical strength.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES.

Eloqsent Address by A. A. Dale Esq. —Parade by Grand Army, Co. B, Band School Children.

Friday May 30, Memorial Day, a day set apart by a grateful people on which to remember the men who have died for the country and the flag, was fittingly observed in Bellefonte and vicinity. As was meet the members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the survivors of the great internecine struggle, had charge of the services of the day, and a fitting setting to the thinning ranks of the boys of '61 was the boys of Co. B, many of whom saw service in the Spanish-American war. There was a general suspension of business during the afternoon which showed that the day is respected in memory of the country's fallen defenders.

The weather for the day was ideal and could not have been better, This fact made the observance all the more enjoyable.

In the morning a squad from Company B, went to Centre Hall and Pleasant Gap where services were held over the graves of departed comrades. At the latter place the exercises were held over the graves of Color Sargeant Charles Garis and Private John Stine. A short address was delivered here by Corporal Roger T. Bayard. At Centre Hall where Private John Thomas is buried the address was delivered by J. Victor Royer Esq, The ladies of Centre Hall presented Lieut. P. F. Garbrick, of Co. B, with a beautiful bouquet of flowers to place on the grave of Private Thomas.

The exercises held by the G. A. R., at Milesburg were also very interesting. W. Harrison Walker Esq., delivered an address at Advent church and J. Kennedy Johnson Esq., at Milesburg.

The services at this place were held in the afternoon under the charge of Gregg Post, Amos Garbrick, commander. At 2 o'clock the parade made up of Gregg Post No. 95 G. A. R., Co. B, 5th Regiment N. G. P., and school children, the whole headed by the Coleville band, formed in the Diamond and marched down High to Spring, to Bishop, to Allegheny, to Howard and to the Union cemetery where the services were held.

At the cemetery the comrades formed a square enclosing graves designated with colors in the centre. The opening services were conducted by the Commander followed by a prayer by the Chaplain. A quartette composed of Messrs. C. C. Shuey, J. P. Smith, A. Lukenbach and Walter Whippo sang two very beautiful selections after which the orator of the day, A. A. Dale Esq., was introduced. Mr. Dale spoke for over forty minutes but so interesting were his remarks and so eloquently were they delivered that the attention of his audience was held from start to finish. Mr. Dale's effort was a most eloquent one and showed careful study and thought. His friends were completely surprised by his address and at its close there was a rush to congratulate him. It was voted by all who heard it to be the best ever delivered in Bellefonte on such an occasion. A prominent divine of the town who was an attentive listener to the whole discourse remarked "that there was no use of sending out of town for an orator when we have such a man in our midst". Another listener remarked that it was worthy to rank with the addresses of Daniel Webster or with Senator Dolliver's famous speech at Gettysburg.

After the regular services there were short services at the grave of Ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin. A short address was delivered by James Harris and an impressment prayer was said by Dr. W. P. Shriner.

Deafness Cannot be cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

A Farrandsville Boy's Fall.

Sidney, the 7 years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allabach, and other boys, were looking down at a bird's nest under a trestle at Farrandsville on Sunday, when Sidney overbalanced and fell off the trestle. He fell seventeen feet and alighted on oak plank. The boy was carried home and Dr. Hill summoned. The child remained unconscious until Monday, but fortunately had no bones broken. He is getting along nicely.

Leads Them All.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says D. Scott Currin of Loganton, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only absolutely safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs. C. M. Parrish.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It corrects the acidity of the blood on which the disease depends, strengthens the stomach, liver and kidneys, and builds up the whole system. Try Hood's.

A Beautiful Floral Tribute.

Each year the Pennsylvania Reserve Association of Philadalphia founded by Ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin, send a beautiful floral tribute to grace the grave of the great War Governor on Memorial Day in the Union cemetery at this place. This year was no exception to the rule for a handsome design in the shape of a Maltese Cross with the words "Penna Reserve Corp" upon it arrived Thursday morning by express and was taken to the cemetery and placed upon the grave of the Ex-Governor.

Attached to the design was a card with the names of the committee written upon it. They were as follows: Owen Jones, 3 Regt P. R. V. C; Richard Jefferies 2nd Regt; John Cardwell 1st Regt; John Gaffyan 2nd Regt; Wm. H. Billets 12th Regt.

Was Wasting Away.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years, I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well."

Hecla Park Outings.

General Manager Frank Warfield, of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, states that the weekly band concerts, which were so popular last year, will be held at Hecla Park this summer and will start in June.

He states, too, that the business men's picnic, which was omitted last year, will be held some time in August, and that a reunion of all the Reformed congregations in the West Susquehanna Classis will probably be held in the latter part of June. Many dates for picnics have already been taken.

Interesting to Asthma Sufferers.

Daniel Bante, of Otterville, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all." C. M. Parrish.

Fire at Jersey Shore.

Fire raged for two hours at Jersey Shore Thursday afternoon, destroying sixteen buildings in the business portion of the town and entailing a loss of between $25,000 and $30,000.

The fire started in the barn of Daniel Bowers who lost his stable, two horses and residence. His loss was $6,000.

The new "Herald" printing office and the "Vidette" printing office were both destroyed. Lock Haven and Williamsport fire companies rendered valuable assistance.

Caterpillars A-Plenty.

Hewitt Boice, a wealthy resident of near Kingston, N. Y., advertised last Friday to pay ten cents for each fruit jar of caterpillars that are infesting hundreds of shade trees in that section. The jars were to be delivered at his barn. Up to Monday night he had paid out nearly $100 to 500 persons, ranging from grandfathers to five year old children. He says he expected three or four dollars would cover the cost. The caterpillars were destroyed as soon as paid for.

—The post office at Lamar was moved some time ago and the building in which it was kept has since remained vacant with the sign "postoffice" over the door. A few nights ago burglars, who probably were tramps deceived by the sign, broke open the door and entered the building. Their disgust, when they found no safe to crack, can only be imagined.

STICK TO ONE THING.

A Man Who Wishes He Had Lived Up to That Rule.

"The only way for a man on a salary to make a success of life financially and otherwise is to stick to one thing," said a government employee to a reporter. "Twenty years ago I had plenty of energy, a little money and a huge stock of ideas. I determined to become a power in the money market and as a starter dabbled for six months or more in stocks. That experience cost me $4,000. I soon became convinced that I was cut out for a druggist and straightway invested $2,000 in a pharmacy. Cut rates were unknown in those days, and in a short time I was doing well, but one day I read of a prominent lawyer receiving $25,000 as a fee for some case, and instantly I became imbued with the idea that I would make a great lawyer. I neglected my drug business to such an extent that in two years I was $500 to the bad. In the meantime I read law diligently. After a time I graduated as a full fledged disciple of Blackstone and hung out my shingle. Business not coming my way as fast as I thought it should, I opened a small hotel; result, $1,800 in the hole.

"Then I tried my hand at real estate, my legal training helping me greatly, but the same old story will have to be recorded here—failure. By this time my money was nearly all gone. What to do next was the all absorbing question. One day a friend convinced me that big money could be made out of chickens. I invested every cent I had left, $1,200, in hens. At the end of six months I sold out my hennery for $300. Then I got a government job, and here I've been ever since. Shortly after my arrival in this town I purchased a little land in the northwest section. That investment has yielded me a very handsome return, and I am now thoroughly satisfied that the only thing for a man on a salary to do is to either put a little each month in some good savings bank or invest his surplus in land or bricks and mortar. Remember one thing—this is an age of specialists. Stick to one thing, make a success of it, and maybe one of these days some big company will offer you a princely salary for your knowledge. A rolling stone gathers no moss or money."—Washington Star.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

The average life of raspberry plantations is about six years.

With grapes the rule should be to dig deep and plant shallow.

For rooting the best cutting of a plant is a shoot of new growth just before it grows woody or at all fibrous.

Trees about the house make it more attractive and homelike, besides shielding it from the cold winds of winter and the hot suns of summer.

Cut the young trees back when placing them in the ground and also trim off some of the roots, especially those that are bruised or broken in any way.

Fruit trees cannot thrive on all kinds of exhausted soil. The trees will make a growth of leaves and wood on poor land, but they require mineral manure to perfect the fruit.

In most cases when planting shade trees the hardiness of the trees should be given preference over rapid growth. It is of no advantage to secure a shade tree early only to have it die when most useful.

Changed the Text.

"Dr. De Witt Talmage during his visit to England in 1879," says the London Chronicle, "had been engaged to preach in a church in one of the large towns of England. On arriving at the building he found it besieged by a throng of from 15,000 to 20,000 people. Naturally, he expected the place would be crowded inside. Instead of this he was surprised to find it only moderately full.

"'Why,' he demanded of the pastor, 'don't you let this crowd of people come in?'

"'Oh,' said he, "each person inside has paid 4 shillings to get in.'

"Dr. Talmage had intended to preach from the text, 'Without money and without price.' He changed his subject."

Matched Puzzlers.

KICKER.

A Theory of His Rise and Progress.

The word "kicker" is no more slang, but an honorable term admitted by the lexicographer to the round table of English speech. This acceptance of the word proves that there was a real need for it; that a certain class of people had no word in the English language to fitly designate them. As a class these kickers must be as modern as the word which describes them. They are in effect a new product of our latest civilization. The word which describes the kicker is picturesque. It suggests the mule whose kicking is usually done out of pure wantonness; which kicks in season and out of season, at everything or at nothing as the case may be. The term kicker scarcely needs definition. We know exactly what it means, as well as we know the chronic fault-finder it designates.

THE RISE OF THE KICKER.

Any one who cares to trace the rise of the kicker will find that he keeps pace with the prevalent American disease, dyspepsia. All kickers may not be dyspeptics, but all dyspeptics are surely kickers. They are everlasting fault-finders. Nothing goes right for them in the family or in business. There is always a dead fly in their ointment. It is a miserable condition for the dyspeptic and his friends. He really can't help himself. His nerves are strained to the limit of endurance. His ears are like megaphones magnifying every little sound to the shock of thunder. His eyes lose sense of perspective and he sees mole-hills as mountains. He is suspicious, jealous, unreasonable and obstinate; and all these things are only symptoms of the disease which is starving and weakening the entire nervous system and reaching out toward heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

WHAT CAN BE DONE FOR HIM?

What can be done for the victim of dyspepsia?

He can be cured. He can be given a new start in life. He can be made the amiable, companionable man he was of old. He can once more eat with appetite and enjoyment, work with energy, and sleep the night through in sound, dreamless slumber.

This is not a mere empty claim unsupported by facts. The statement that the dyspeptic can be cured is made on the authority of thousands of men and women, who have been entirely cured of dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It always helps. It almost always cures.

O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 222), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy, yellow water. I consulted a physician and he told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. I still kept getting so weak I could scarcely walk. I then tried another physician and he told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better, but only for a short time. I then tried another one who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief while using. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before. I can truthfully say Dr. Pierce's medicines did me more good than any I had ever taken."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores bodily strength by enabling the assimilation of food which is the source of all physical strength. It acts directly on the blood-making glands, increasing their activity and so increasing the supply of blood which is enriched and purified by the "Discovery."

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics and injurious drugs.

Do not accept any substitute for the "Discovery" though claimed to be "just as good." "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured when all other medicines have failed. There is nothing else "just as good."

Results of Meetings Held by Engineers, Firemen and Pumpmen Friday.

MAY GO OUT ON MONDAY

The Vote Taken at Wilkesbarre Was Very Decisive—That at Scranton Was Much Closer.

COMPANIES PROTECTING MINES

WILKESBARRE, May 31.—A largely attended meeting of engineers, firemen and pumpmen was held at Donnelly's hall, this city, Friday. The Wyoming Valley was represented. Addresses were made by John Fallon, member of the national board of United Mine Workers; Henry Collins and D. J. Reese, members of the executive boards. The speakers impressed upon their hearers the necessity of standing together in the contest now on with the operators. A resolution endorsing the strike order of the executive board, calling out the engineers, firemen and pumpmen, was adopted by a vote of 315 to 37. The result was received with cheers.

Representatives of the coal companies doubt the correctness of the vote. They claim there were not that many men at the meeting and that an overwhelming number of those present were firemen. The coal operators still insist that a majority of the engineers will not desert their posts on Monday.

The committee of engineers from Lackawanna region who came to this city to have President Mitchell and the executive committee recind the strike order calling out the engineers; firemen and pumpmen returned home Friday night when they learned that President Mitchell would not reach here until late today. All hope of having the strike order recinded has been given up.

SCRANTON, May 31.—At a meeting attended by over 100 engineers, pumpmen and firemen employed at the eight colleries of the New York, Ontario and Western company held here Friday morning the strike order calling the men out next Monday was endorsed. District President T. D. Nicholls addressed the meeting and his talk brought many of the men into line. A secret ballot was taken at first, showing 58 in favor of and 44 against a strike. A motion to indorse the strike order was than unanimously carried.

SHAMOKIN, May 31.—The mining companies began building dams Thursday at their collieries by nailing planks across the gangways to prevent from flooding in case the firemen and pumpmen should strike next Monday and none can be procured to keep up the fires. The strikers say the mines will break in two weeks and flood the entire workings.

One hundred anthracite men left here last night for Westmoreland to work in the bituminous region.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—Secretary Wilson, of the United Mine Workers, left for Columbus to-day. The purpose of his visit Mr. Wilson will not disclose, although he denied that it had anything to do with the strike situation. He admitted, however, that there are no local troubles there to be adjusted.

Mr. Wilson received a telegram from President Mitchell at Chicago. The latter left that city later on his way to Wilkesbarre. The call for the convention, which five of the delegates have agreed to sign, has not been issued, Mr. Wilson said, nor has the formal request for the meeting been received at the national headquarters. The situation, he declared, is entirely unchanged.

The national officers are generally understood to be opposed to calling a general strike at this time and it is believed they are trying to organize the men outside of the five districts that want the strike to defeat any movement in that direction in the propose d convention.

A Real Friend.

"I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant of Merry Oaks, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. C. M. Parrish.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels means a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. DeWitt's Little Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe. "I have taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Everly, Moundsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." C. M. Parrish.

Base Ball at Beech Creek.

BEECH CREEK, Pa., May 30.—The Howard base ball team came down to our city today and sent the home team "away up the stage." The cause of the score being so one-sided was the terrific batting by the Howard team. Brungard was sent to the field in the seventh after they had earned 10 runs, and Eldridge, who was substituted, fared little better in the eighth. Shay had 11 strike-outs to his credit. The batting of Long and Schenck and the remarkable catch of a red hot liner by Dearment were the features of the game. Score by innings:

Kodol Digests what you Eat
Dyspepsia Cure
People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.
"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after a few bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa."
It can't help but do you good
Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2½ times the 50c. size.
When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

HARMONY.

Well! Its all over, and what a relief it is!

"Oleo" John was on the scene good and early, but when he took a seat on the benches of the Court House and not inside the Bar with the delegates, everyone knew he was to be counted out of the game. Colonel Curtin looked all right as Chairman and everything seemed lovely as the 'harmony" delegates to the State Convention were unanimously elected, but when "Bill" Gray got to his feet, before the Committee on Resolutions had reported, you could cut the silence with an ax. However when it was realized that some uninteresting though important rules governing congressional conferees were the subjects of his little talk the anxious looks disappeared. This gave "Billy" an opportunity to show the delegates that he was in the convention, and the motion to adjourn, which followed the resolutions endorsing our manly President, was carried with a whoop.

Its all over, but Centre County's voice in the State Convention was rendered null and void for the benefit of the County ticket. It was a convention purely in the interest of home industries and for domestic consumption. It is our dearest hope that this compromise, this concession to the feelings of the county candidates, will have its looked for results. A hearty support of and a clean sweep for the County ticket in November to which the delegates pledged themselves in their resolutions.

If this occurs the party leaders will be justified in their compromise of last Monday; if it does not—well, they will know better next time.

WANTED—A second hand express harness must be cheap and not broken or ripped.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The unwashed and unterrified have come and gone, after endorsing the slate fixed up by their party bosses. The chairmanship fight was called off when Bower discovered that even his personal letters and influence could not down Fortney. And Brungart, who was slated and elected as the compromise candidate, may not be so easy to handle as Bower imagines. In fact, the anti-Bower contingent seemed to have scored in this instance.

"Susie" Bower, airily smoking a cigarette, sauntered into the Court House with his hat on one side of his head and called the convention to order before "Pop" Bower had finished fixing the delegates; and, while (ex-candidate for chairman) Gettig was calling the roll, the delegates who were there amused themselves watching "Petie" Meek in his shirt sleeves nursing a boil on his neck that might have been acquired by nights of toil over the Borough finances.

Ellis L. Orvis, strange to say, was selected as temporary chairman; Colonel Spangler and "Doc" White of Philipsburg seemed to preside as floor managers, with "Pikey" Waltz as "sub" to make or second every other motion. After a good deal of trouble to persuade the slated people to take their places in the organization, they finally got in shape to attend to business.

Foster withdrew from the race for Assembly hopelessly beaten and Burdine Butler, in gratitude for the three delegates he was allowed to get and after offering to haul his whole district to the polls to vote (for whom he did not state) got out of the way of the Taylor automobile, so that the slate for these two offices with Archey as Register went through without opposition. Then came some of the fine work of the Democracy's head boss, all his friends were slaughtered for the benefit of Frain for Commissioner. Foreman was knocked out for Recorder in the deal with "Doc" White's delegates in favor of Rowe of Philipsburg and Carlin was given some support in order to put up a bluff that everything was on the square, even though Zerby had been promised the Treasurership. But "Boss" Bower was still up against it, his efforts were all in vain. The delegates were unwilling to swallow Frain, so orders were given to turn to Humpton even if it did knock out Dunlap, which was finally accomplished by the votes of the Philipsburg and Frain men; Meyer and Humpton being the candidates nominated for commissioner.

To say that a great many Democrats are sore over the general result would be putting it mildly, and many of the delegates feel that they were badly sold. But if Bower can arrange matters so that he secures the nomination for Judge two years from now he will scarcely care who is hurt in the meantime.

This is all sugar for the Republicans and the Democratic ticket nominated on Tuesday should be easily beaten if harmony in the Republican ranks is firmly established. Wetzel and Kepler were defeated two years ago and Archey only pulled through by a scratch. Now Foreman's friends will not relish the underhand methods by which the Philipsburg man was selected as Recorder; while the Democrats themselves acknowledge that Carlin was only used as an instrument to snub Bower, and since the boss threw him his pretended support he has lost what sympathy his candidacy created.

The meanest trick of the convention was its action in regard to Dunlap. He made a hard and plucky fight, he has always been one of the wheel-horses of the party, and came into the convention with twice as many instructed delegates as any other candidate for commissioner. The exhibition of arrogant bossism that defeated him will be remembered long after he and his many friends have had their revenge in November.

The most peculiar action of this bossridden convention from a Democratic standpoint exists in the fact that Penns Valley, which furnishes the great bulk of their vote, is recognized by having only one candidate, Carlin. The Democracy is realizing that they need Republican votes to carry this county. Let us see that they do not get them.

COL. WATRES PLEA FOR PURE POLITICS.

Urges a Uniform Primary Election Law. Arraigns Unjust Legislation At Harrisburg.

From Grange Trade Bulletin.

Colonel L. A. Watres delivered the following address in the joint debate with Attorney General Elkin at Wilkes-Barre:—

The people of Pennsylvania have reason to be proud of their State. Its attributes are epitomized in its motto Virtue, Liberty and Independence. The preservation of its historic glory as the birthplace of American independence rests in the civic virtue of its citizens. As a Republican I take pride in my State and in my party, the party of Lincoln, of Grant of McKinley and of Roosevelt—of achievement and progress.

"The glory of Pennsylvania is the glory of the Republican party and of the men who made the party great by devoting its splendid power to great uses for the common weal. No party deserves to exist unless it advances the welfare of the people, and in this respect the Republican party of this noble State has won title to immortality by its splendid record.

"But in paying tribute to the Republican party, I am mindful of the high-souled men who regarded the power it conferred as a sacred trust to be exercised for the public good. The glory of the Republican party and its achievements have been possible only through the exalted service of duty which has actuated its public men. The continuance of its glory and achievements will be possible only through the same high attributes.

"If degeneracy and dishonesty had been enthroned in high places in our State in the early days of the Republican party, we of to-day instead of taking pride in its record would have reason to be ashamed of our inheritance. But happily for us and for coming generations, the craft and cunning of these modern times were then unknown, and the iniquities of the executive and legislative departments of 1901 were impossible

PRESENT ISSUES.

"So much for the past. What of the present and the future? It is concerning these questions that you have before you this evening two candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor of the State, and it is proper to say that thus far we are the only candidates before the people. This is entirely proper, because the people are entitled to know what each stands for. It is getting back to a good old custom.

"Among many other great features of our government is the grand opportunity given to every one to aspire to the highest office of our State. There is no royal road to place, it is open to all, whether it be the man behind the plow or the humble picker of anthracite slate.

"Viewing party strife and contentions, and moved by a desire to assist in remedying existing evils, I sent to thousands of my friends throughout the State the following letter, dated September 12, 1901:—

"'My Dear Sir:—No citizen need be ashamed to own an ambition to serve the State as her chief executive. I may therefore, without hesitation, inform you that it is my desire to occupy the gubernatorial chair.

"'I have lived all my life in Lackawanna County, and have served eight years in the State Senate, and four years in the office of Lieutenant Governor. My business and official experience has given me some information of the needs of the State. I have served as chairman of the Republican Committee of Lackawanna County, chairman of the Republican State Committee, and for ten years a member of the Executive Committee of the State Committee. I purpose being a candidate of the entire Republican party, and not of any faction thereof.

"'As it would not be possible to see you in person I wish to advise you that I will submit my name to the next Republican convention as a candidate for Governor, and to say that I shall be glad if you will assist me with your support and influence in securing delegates from your district.'

"My candidacy, therefore is nonfactional, made within party lines, and will remain so to the end.

"I am a firm believer in organization, in majority rule. It is essential, however, that the organization should be kept clean and that the majority shall be honestly acquired.

"During my candidacy I have assailed—not the Republican party—but those that have misused the power entrusted to them by the party, and who have dishonored and brought to shame both the party and the State. Until the evils complained of are remedied the people must continue discussing and arouse from a lethargy which makes them guilty of contributory negligence.

LEGISLATURE'S RECORD.

'Since the morning stars sang together there has not been such a Legislature as that of 1901. There were many true, upright members and statesmen, and among them your own member, Hon. George J. Hartman, and it is fair to say that much good legislation was enacted, but the open bribery, the shameless legislation and the utter disregard of the people's welfare go down in history as wicked and monumental.

"It is related that an English law lord once asked Hume, the Commoner, what was the greatest aim of legislation? To which Hume replied: "The greatest good to the greatest number.' Whereupon the law lord further asked, What is that greatest number? To which the commoner replied, Number one my lord.' The force of this incident lies to the application of it.

"The evils of the 'ripper' bill, and the 'franchise grabs' overtower all others. The 'ripper bill' as originally drawn, may have been warranted and justifiable, but as it was twisted and amended and forced through the Legislature by the Chief Executive it became a veritable monster, taking from the people the constitutional right to govern themselves and placing the municipalities affected under the absolute control and personal government of the Governor of the Commonwealth.

"There can be no doubt but that the Legislature had a right to pass the franchise bills referred to. It may have been required by the existing conditions. But there can be no possible extenuation of the offense which was committed against the public when the Chief Executive at the hour of midnight affixed his signature to a bill which conferred great personal benefits upon a select few of his personal following, who alone were admitted to his sanctuary,

"There can be no wrong in acquiring State charters and in building up enterprises. Under the laws of the State any citizen may apply for and obtain them. I have obtained many of them myself But concerning these, there is no personal preference, no midnight deal. They are open to all, and may be had by any one who complies with the laws and pays the State fees. Not so, however, with the franchise bills. The righs conferred thereunder were not open to any but the chosen few.

NEW CAPITOL LAWS.

"Let me call to your attention another piece of legislation worthy of thought. I refer to an act entitled: An act to provide for the removal of the two buildings now occupied by the Secretary of Internal Affairs and other departments of the State Government and the Secretary of Agriculture and other departments of the State Government, and for the construction and completion of the State Capitol building, and making an appropriation therefor; and repealing an act entitled an act to provide for the erection of a new Capitol building for the General Assembly and to secure plans for said building and such other buildings to be erected in the future as may be necessary for executive and departmental purposes, and making an appropriation therefor, approved the 14th day of April Anno Domini, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Ninety seven.'

"Let me read for your information Section 1 of that bill:—

"'Section 1. Be it enacted, etc. that the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall appoint four persons resident within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who, with the present Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, William A. Stone, shall constitute a commission until the 1st day of January, one thousand nine hundred and six, when said commission shall cease to exist: which commission is hereby authorized and empowered to construct, build and complete the State Capitol building at Harrisburg, including a power, light and heat plant of sufficient capacity to satisfactorily supply the needs of said building or buildings. And to employ an architect, who shall be a citizen of Pennsylvania; and said commission shall receive no compensation whatever for its services, but shall be reimbursed for actual expenses incurred in connection with the duties thereof. Any vacancies occurring in the number of the commission shall be filled by appointment by the then Governor of the Commonwealth.'

"This bill was passed only after a fierce struggle. The friends of the State Administration were marshaled in its support. The bill became a law and constitutes William A. Stone chairman and principal director of the commission to expend $4,000,000 in the construction of the Capitol building. The chief executive is not saying much these days, but does any one imagine he is wholly indifferent as to who his successor shall be?

"The evils referred to are matters of serious regret, and it is humiliating that they have been perpetrated under Republican rule. It is better by far that as a party we should recognize the evils and seek to remedy them within the party than that we should avoid our responsibility and leave to our common enemy, the Democratic party, the task, which although unpleasant is surely our own.

PRIMARY REFORM.

"What the State needs to-day more than aught else is a uniform primary election law and an effective enforcement of the personal registration constitutional amendment. There never was a better object lesson of the crying need of a primary election law than has been shown in Luzerne County in the past three weeks. The primaries first held in the Third and Fourth Districts, then in the Fifth, and now in the First, and next week in the Sixth, have given the State Administration a most excellent opportunity to concentrate its force in each point in turn. We, therefore, find the Governor's messenger, the chief of mines and mining, a mine inspector, two clerks from the Law Department, the deputy factory inspector and the resident Government stamp clerk most actively and persistently engaged in forwarding the interest of my opponent, and I want to congratulate him upon having such adept workers.

"Right here let me refer to an interesting incident in the local campaign. As any citizen has a right to do. I came here to register my name as a candidate for the Republican nomination.

"I complied with the request of your district chairman; I paid my registration fee, which I had supposed was to be used in the legitimate expenses of this campaign.

"I have been wondering since coming here if your chairman has considered the posters with which your city is covered inveighing against me as a legitimate expense. This card announced that a meeting was to have been held at Greuneur's Hall. I am informed that at this meeting your district chairman—whoever heard of such a thing—was one of the principal speakers and that accompanying him also as a speaker was your county chairman.

"I also find that circulated through your district are letters denouncing me signed by your county chairman. He is an excellent gentleman for whom I entertain high esteem, he undoubtedly has a right to write any letters he chooses and sign them in his personal capacity, but I am sure that, upon reflection, he will agree with me that the office of county chairman should not be used in other than a ministerial capacity

"In the Second Legislative District—known these days as Coray district, presided over by your former county chairman, I find that methods are quite the reverse and that candidates have fair and courteous treatment.

"What is sorely needed is that upon a certain day and hour every voter in the Commonwealth may go to the primaries and cast his unmolested vote for the citizen of his choice, and at the expense—not of an overtaxed aspirant for office—but of the county or the State, thus removing one of the greatest evils of our day. This would permit the poor man as well as the men of larger means to submit his name for the suffrage of the people.

"The Muncipal League of Philadelphia is entitled to credit for having secured at the end of six years of hard struggle the passage of the constitutional amendment requiring personal registration. This amendment was vetoed in 1899 by the present chief executive, but upon appeal the Supreme Court unamiously denied the right of the Governor to veto a proposed constitutional amendment.

"The republican party stands pledged by its platform of 1895, 1896. 1897 and 1900 to better ballot laws.

'Senator Quay, at West Chester, in 1899, in his State canvas, whose political sagacity cannot be questioned, said, and I fully believe that he was sincere in his delarations:—

"Without pretending to control results, I believe I am able to say that Mr. Guffey, who incited the proposition of a new law (for ballot reform), may frame any fair statute which is a manifest improvement over the present one and the Republican organization will aid its passage. We will repeal the Baker law and substitute for it the Guffey law, and the legislative actions will no doubt be approved by the executive who sits beside me.'

"It is known that Senator Quay kept his part of this arrangement, but strange as it may seem he could not control the Legislature.

"It is devoutly to be hoped that the constitutional amendment before referred to may be effectively enforced by the next Legislature.

"With a Legislature composed of free and untrammeled men, Pennsylvania will secure uniform primaries, honest legislation. Factionalism will cease, the people's rights will be protected, patriotism promoted, education advanced, the differences of capital and labor adjusted and the prosperity and good name of the Commonwealth assured."

Delay has been dangerous in Bellefonte.

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in times of danger.

Backache is kidney danger.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly

Cure all distressing dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this:

Mr. G. H. Bradt of 121 Penn Street, gardener, says: "I had a lame back and pains over my kidneys. I was at times so lame it was most painful to straighten up after sitting or stooping and any lifting or turning suddenly hurt me exceedingly. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, saw some Bellefonte people who had been cured by using them and I procured a box from F. Potts Green's drug store."

ART OF CARICATURE

EVOLUTION AND INFLUENCE OF THE NEWSPAPER CARTOON.

The Ancient Greeks, Romans and Egyptians Used Grotesque Pictures to Emphasize Their Satire—The Eighteenth Century Craze.

The story is told of an abbe of the seventeenth century who was as deformed in figure as he was ridiculous in dress, and as sensitive about his physical deformity as he was vain of his eccentric attire, that while serving mass one morning he observed a smile of contempt on the face of one of the courtiers present and determined to avenge himself by serving a process upon him for appearance in court the following day.

The offender, M. de Lasson by name, knowing that things would go hard with him unless he could show some reason for his mirth, made a hasty sketch of the hunchback abbe, exaggerating in size the six black caps and the waistcoats in which he was wont to appear, and when he was solemnly asked to show cause for his unseemly mirth and indignity to the holy church he suddenly displayed before his judges the caricature of the abbe as his "excuse." The likeness was so excellent and the cartoon so grotesque that the entire court fell to laughing, and the accused was liberated without a reprimand.

This is the first authentic case of the power of the cartoon in a hall of justice, but it illustrates the power of the pencil in depicting the follies of the foolish and the affectations of the artificial.

There is no telling when the art of caricature began. There are a number of grotesques that have come down to us from earliest Egyptian times. The Greeks employed pictures to emphasize their satire, and so did the Romans. All through the middle ages there were numberless examples of "grotesqueries" which, curiously enough, were used in enforcing the doctrines of the church by means of satirizing the devil. But the eighteenth century was the heyday of the cartoon.

Beginning in France and overrunning into Holland and thence across the channel into England, the flood of caricaturists carried everything before it, and it is safe to say that we read the history of the times with clearer vision and with more accuracy of detail for the mirror which caricaturists held up to reflect the striking peculiarities of the men and events passing before it.

Gautier mentions a Spanish cartoonist, Francisco Gaya y Lucientes, a mixture of Rembrandt, Watteau and Rabelais, who preceded the two great caricaturists of the latter half of the eighteenth century, George Cruikshank in England and M. Charlet in France. Charlet is known as the father of modern social caricature and holds as good title to his position as does Philipau to that of the father of comic journalism, with Le Charivari, the strongest paper of its kind. Then came Punch in England, which still retains its subtitle of the London Charivari, for years the faithful if not the most highly polished reflecter of British life. Upon its staff John Leech, Richard Doyle, John Fenniel, George du Maurier and a dozen men of lesser name kept Great Britain in good humor for two generations.

It has been reserved for America, however, to bring forth a new race of caricaturists, which for lack of a better title may be called the personal cartoonists, men who seize upon the characteristics of an individual and so exaggerate them that the subjects of the cartoons are known by the most prominent features in their physical, mental or moral makeup.

True there was one man in London a hundred years ago, Gillray by name, who had this faculty of dissecting his subject until he found his weakest point and then unmercifully pricking it with his drawing pencil, but with him the race died out, to be reincarnated in America. Gillray was a close observer of people and events. He would sit in his publisher's window and watch the fops of the court as they passed and fasten in his memory every feature by which a man would be recognized by his acquaintances. He remembered every story that related to the traits of character of those in the public eye, and the St. James street of 1800 is faithfully reproduced in his art.

Perhaps we Americans look at the droll side of life more than other people, but certain it is we have more and better cartoonists than elsewhere. The very quickness with which we see the point of a joke demands equal facility in portraying drollery in a cartoon. We sketch boldly and leave much of the unnecessary detail to our slower cousins. Then, too, our public events happen with such startling rapidity that a cartoon of yesterday's doings would be flat today, and we must keep very much alive and be ready for a political change overnight.

In other words, the alert American must have depicted in his cartoon the very traits of character that have made him what he is, the quickest and brightest of men.—Thomas Nast in New York News.

THE CATFISH ZONE.

And the Origin of the Philadelphia Habit of Catfish and Waffles.

While pessimists have been denouncing the extension of the pie belt through the United States and the enlargement of the saleratus biscuit district, they have been entirely oblivious of the extraordinary development of the catfish zone. This mischievous dweller of the pool is known to the small boy and the rustic angler under many names—in one place as a sucker, in another a bullhead, in a third a wolf fish and, most outrageous of all, in northern Mississippi as a shad. But its own only genuine title is catfish. The name is derived from the fact that when the creature is raised from the water it emits a grunting protest which poetical fishermen have pronounced like the purring of a family cat.

Philadelphia produced the catfish habit. For two centuries the animal was looked at as something which might be eaten to prevent starvation until one fine day a thrifty Quaker found that the catfish would eat boiled cornmeal and that this simple food not only fattened the eater, but changed the color of its belly from white to yellow. He perceived the pecuniary value of the discovery and established a catfish farm in which he fattened the fishes which he caught elsewhere and in due season sold them to the Philadelphia markets.

A Quakeress soon after that discovered that the old fashioned waffle, slightly salted and covered with melted butter, made an irresistible accessory to the fish when well fried. This started the catfish and waffles, for which the City of Brotherly Love has ever since been famous. The habit spread like an epidemic, and, like the star of empire, its way was westward. So far as is known the United States government has no record of catfish and waffles east of the Delaware river, but starting at Philadelphia a distinct catfish zone runs westward, terminating at Denver, reaching as far north as Minneapolis and St. Paul and as far south as Mobile and New Orleans. The catfish is said to possess medicinal virtue. It is mildly anæsthetic, soporific and antispasmodic.—New York Post.

The Women of Damascus.

The women of Damascus—that is, the Moslem women—are more closely veiled than those of Constantinople and other eastern cities because the people here are more tenacious in the observance of the ancient customs of their race and the requirements of their religion. The veils are thicker, also, and cover the entire face. Some of them are figured so that the concealment is even more complete.

Greeks, Jews and Armenians do not wear veils, and some of them are very handsome, particularly the Jewish women. Their eyes, complexion and hair are superb. The types of oriental loveliness remind you of Solomon's Song.

No women are employed about the hotels or restaurants. All the "domestic" work is done by men. In the shops and manufactories of Damascus thousands of women and girls are employed, but they are exclusively Greeks and Jews. No Moslem would permit his wife, daughter or sister to appear in a shop or any other place where men are employed.—Chicago Record-Herald.

If You Have to Fight a Boa.

If any reader of this article should ever be so unfortunate as to experience the embrace of a boa constrictor, it is recommended that he try to release himself by taking hold of the creature's tail and unwinding it from that end. It can be easily unwound in that way, but otherwise it is not possible. The way to kill a snake is not to attempt to crush its head, the bones of which are very hard, but to strike the tail, where the spinal cord is but thinly covered by bone and suffers readily from injury. It is the same with an eel. Hit the tail two or three times against any hard substance, and the eel quickly dies.

The boas are not venomous, but their fangs are sufficiently powerful to inflict serious wounds.

Concentration.

"Don't put all your eggs in one basket" is all wrong. I tell you "Put all your eggs in one basket and then watch that basket." It is easy to watch and carry the one basket. It is trying to carry too many baskets that breaks most eggs in this country. He who carries three baskets must put one on his head, which is apt to tumble and trip him up.—Carnegie's "Empire of Business."

A Very Old Rule.

The oldest mathematic book in the world is believed to be the "Papyrus Rhind" in the British museum, professed to have been written by Ahmes, a scribe of King Ra-a-us, about the period between 2000 and 1700 B. C. This "Papyrus Rhind" was translated by Eisenlohr of Leipsic, and it was found to contain a rule for making a square equal in area to a given circle. It was not put forth as an original discovery, but as the transcript of a treatise 500 years older still, which sends us back to, approximately, 2500 B. C., when Egyptian mathematicians solved, or thought they had solved, the problem of squaring the circle.

Children's Day at the Lutheran Church.

Children's Day will be observed in the Lutheran church next Sunday, 8th. In the morning an appropriate sermon will be preached by the pastor and children baptized.

In the evening the Sunday School, in connection with the congregation, will render a beautiful service. With additions the 12 crosses that were so enthusiastically received at Easter, will be given again. There will be special vocal and instrumental music by the junior choir The church will be elaborately decorated with flowers,

In all respects it will be a most attractive and impressive service. No admission fee, but a silver offering will be taken for the Loysville Orphan Home. You are cordially invited.

"How did she get here?" At a famous dancing assembly this was the quite audible comment made by several married belles when a beautiful young matron as yet on the outskirts of the exclusive set entered the room. The newcomer, whose first appearance it was, proved herself quite equal to the occasion. She had a nodding acquaintance with nearly every woman in the room. Some of them even went to her luncheon parties. Calmly turning to the most supercilious critic in the room, she echoed as though in reply:

A HAPPY COUPLE.

Jacob Ertle, aged 70, Weds Frances Sharp, aged 62, at Milesburg.

A pretty, but unique affair was celebrated Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sarah Sharp, at Milesburg. The event had a double significance inasmuch as it was the 89th anniversary of the birth of the aged lady, Mrs. Sharp, whose daughter, Frances, aged 62, was the bride of the occasion.

Preparations for the anniversary had been going on for some time and a great many guests were invited, all of whom were expected to bring their own refreshments. Jacob Ertle, the groom, who is 70 years of age, had been courting Miss Frances for some time and he decided, a few days ago, that the occasion of the anniversary would be a good time for them to get married. He so informed his bride, who was willing, and as a result the guests at the anniversary were surprised to find themselves the guests at a wedding also, and the fun of it was that they furnished the wedding dinner.

The ceremony was performed by Squire J. Miles Green promptly at 8 o'clock and the happy couple were the recipients of hearty congratulations. The Calithumpians later heard of the affair and gave them a great serenade. At the close of the evening's festivities the guests got together and sang some good old fashioned Methodist hymns ere they separated for their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ertle will not make a bridal tour, but have settled down in the Sharp homestead, where the blissful period of the honeymoon will be spent in peace and quietness. May they live for many years to enjoy this happy existence.

Obituary.

Mrs. Ellen Blair Sweyer, daughter of the late T. M. and Uretta Hall, of Milesburg, after a lingering illness of Brights Disease, passed quietly to her rest, at her home in Howard, Centre Co. on the 30th of May 1902, aged 67 years and 2 months.

The subject of this notice was twice married. On the 27th of Sept. 1860 she was united in marriage to the late Mr. Mathew Riddle Moore, who died July 20 1868. Of this union four sons were born, one of whom died in infancy. The others are William O. of Flinton, Cambria Co. Pa., Oscar M. of Erie, and George H. of Renova who were all present at her funeral.

She subsequently married Mr. Joseph Sweyer, of Howard, on the 17th Oct 1872, who preceded her to the grave a dozen or more years. By this union two sons were born, J. Grant of Howard, with whom she resided and Frank M. of Erie. She is also survived by a number of brothers and sisters.

Of her it can be truthfully said, she was a devoted wife an affectionate mother, her first husband dying, when her children were young and largely dependent upon her efforts to maintain them with true motherly devotion she struggled heroically and kept them together and reared them under her own care and protection. In late years she was rewarded for her life of toil and energy by their filial love and obedience and the sorrow manifested by them as they bent over the lifeless remains of their loving mother evidenced the love and gratitude they owed her.

She was a true and loyal member of the M. E. Church, was always found in her place, when able, in the house of worship. She delighted in the service of her Heavenly Master, and when it became apparent the end was approaching, she calmly and resignedly laid aside her trust on earth to enter upon her reward above. Her remains were followed to their final resting place in the cemetery at Howard by a large concourse of loving friends and neighbors on Monday the 20 inst., her pastor, Rev. Mr. Boggs officiating. Of her Christian character and consecrated life he spoke with special emphasis.

"After life's faithful fever she sleeps well" Peace to her ashes!

June 3, 1902, A FRIEND.

Memorial Day at Milesburg.

At 8:30 a. m. on Memorial Day the detail from Post 261 Milesburg began Memorial service for the dead who are buried in the cemetery at Fairview three miles north of Curtin. The Sunday schools of Fairview and Woomer's were present in force under charge of Jesse Confer, supt. The Curtin Cornet band was present and played suitable tunes for the service, the schools sang the hymn "America" and Mrs. McCartney read Mr. Lincoln's memorable address delivered at Gettysburg in November, 1863, at the dedication of the cemetery and monument there. She read it very well. After the ritual, used on such occasions by the G. A. R., a short address was delivered by Col. Austin Curtin, commander of the Post.

At 10 a. m. the services began at Advent church. Three Sunday schools were present in large numbers, under their respective superintendents. Runville, Marsh Creek and Advent Sunday schools were the ones represented. Very many more of the Post came there to meet the detail which had been to Fairview and quite a number of people from the surrounding country were in attendance. The commander, assisted by Comrades Rager, Shultz, Derr and Chaplain Wilson, read the ritual of the order for such services. Miss Fannie Confer recited in a most beautiful manner the great Lincoln address. W. Harrison Walker, Esq., made an admirable and able address suitable for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Sparks, of Runville, made a prayer and Rev. Mr. Crouch, of Milesburg, pronounced the benediction. Mr. Frank Wetzler blew the taps and the services for the deceased soldiers buried at Advent were over for 1902, (the graves had been previously decorated by the Sunday schools) and then the procession moved toward Milesburg, where a most excellent dinner was awaiting all who had participated in the services, members of the Post, band and a number of others. It was served in the Post room and gotten up by the ladies of the Relief Corps connected with Post. It has been the regular custom for the ladies to have a fine dinner prepared on such occasions and it is very much appreciated by all who partake of the set-out.

Soon as possible after the dinner the line of march was taken for the cemeteries at Curtin. Arriving there at 1:30 p. m. the graves in old cemetery at the church were decorated, and then, accompanied by the Eagle Chapel Sunday school under charge of Mr. Williams, sup't, proceeded to the new cemetery on the hill and began services there by dirge by the band. The ritual was performed by commander assisted by a number of comrades. The hymn "America" was sung by the Sunday school. Mr. Lincoln's address was read and then J. K. Johnston, Esq., was introduced and made a most beautiful and appropriate address. It was fitting he should come there to make the address, standing almost in sight of the place of his nativity and having been related to many and an intimate acquaintanceship with many more who are sleeping in those "windowless palaces" around him, it was with feeling he made the address.

The march was again taken for Milesburg, where the last services of the day were to be held. Arriving there at 4 p. m. and being joined by the Fire company in full uniform, and led by the band, the line of march was through the town to the Methodist church, where a countermarch was made and the Methodist Sunday school being in line, ready, joined the column and moved down the street taking in the Presbyterian Sunday school on its way down and then passing by the Baptist church the Sunday school of that denomination was added, and by that time the line was quite large and moved at once to the old cemetery east of the town where, after position was taken, the services began by singing "America" by the whole large congregation, led by Mr. Eddy and a well selected choir. Commander Curtin, assisted by P. P. C. J. Miles Green, P. P. C. P. H. Haupt, P. P. C. J. P. C. Jones and Chaplain Wilson, read the ritual, several more selections by the choir, a dirge by the band, the excellent reciting of Mr. Lincoln's address by Miss Jones (daughter of Newton Jones), and then David F. Fortney, Esq., being introduced as orator of the day made a most excellent and well prepared address, which was suitable for the day and of historical interest and was listened to all the way through with keen interest. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. F. Carson, the band played an appropriate selection during which the graves were decorated by the Post and the children and then the line reformed and marched to their respective places of meeting.

The large majority of the Post attended the services at the different places, but it was necessary to send a detail at 10 a. m. to the new cemetery near Milesburg to attend to the duties there. Comrades J. Miles Green and P. H. Haupt had that detail in charge. The address of the day was made by Prof. James P. Gregg.

A Compliment to Senator W. C. Heinle.

In the Democratic county convention Tuesday George P. Haines Esq., a delegate from Miles twp, the birthplace of Senator Heinle, made the following complimentary speech in placing him in nomination for State Senate.

MR. CHAIRMAN:—

I rise to place in nomination a man whose past record entitled him to the full confidence of all constituants, irrespective of party policy; a man who, early in life, indicated his real position for his country.

It was in 1863, when a few men had met to consider the advisability of resisting the draft, that this man was taken into such a place and when he discovered what it, was, he walked out and when at the door gave three cheers for the Union. Although these people afterwards became patriotic soldiers and loyalty was supreme; nevertheless it showed where this youth could be found in after life when his country's rights were at stake.

His only brother died from a wound received at the battle at Coal Harbor. His father, though an ardent Democrat all his life, voted for Lincoln in 1864 on the ground that the Government should be supported when in trouble.

The man I will name took a determined stand against all vicious legislation and his just strenuous work during the last Session of the Legislature, in behalf of right, won for him the commendation of the Public at large and the plaudits of the Press throughout the State.

Gentlemen of the Convention, I name Hon. William C. Heinle for the State Senate.

The Soldiers' Monument and Curtin Memorial.

TO THE EDITOR OF REPUBLICAN:

Will you allow me the privilege, through the colums of your paper, to inquire what is being done towards the erection of the Soldiers' Monument and Curtin Memorial? As I remember, the matter was left in the hands of a Committee to raise funds, select site and have monument erected. Since that time the State has generously appropriated $10,000 and the county $5,000, in addition to this there are subscriptions aggregating several thousand dollars, making a sum sufficient to build a beautiful and appropriate monument. To be more accurate would say that the total amount available is about $27,000. If this Committee has secured all the funds, which they are able to raise, why not build a memorial with what they have in hand, instead of waiting for something they will never attend.

It would be a gratification, no doubt, to the few survivors of the Civil war to see this monument completed before they pass away, but at the rate affairs are moving there is little likelihood of their doing so. Unless the Committee is willing to proceed and carry out the wishes of those who subscribed for the purpose, let them step down and place the matter in the hands of the County Commissioners, whom we are satisfied would proceed in a business-like way to erect this testimonial due to those who defended the honor of our flag 'way back in the sixties.

Yours truly,

CITIZEN.

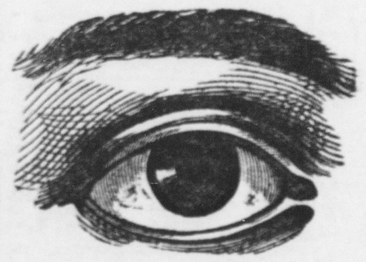
AN EXPERT



Eye Specialist!

of Williamsport, will make his monthly visit here

ONE DAY ONLY,

Thurs. June 26,

from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., with headquarters at

THE GARMAN HOUSE

Bellefonte, Pa.

I can examine your eyes at your home, by appointment, without extra charge.

If you need me at your home drop me a line in care of Garman Honse.

Hundreds are going blind daily, from the need of the proper prescribed glasses and from delaying attention to the eyes from time to time. Nothing will destroy your eyesight quicker than cheap glasses or glasses not properly fitted to your eyes.

Prof. Angel, in the short time he has been visiting this section, has met with marked success. Scores of leading citizens of this community have found relief from his treatment. It is not necessary to travel to Eastern cities for treatment when you can consult an eminent oculist at home.

THE GOLDEN POPPY.

Dazzling, Blazing Blossoms That Greeted the California Pioneers.

Far out at sea gleaming sheets of dazzling gold arrested the gaze of the early explorers of California. Blazing along the Pacific coast, embroidering the green foothills of the snow capped Sierra Madres, transforming acres and acres of treeless plains into royal cloth of gold, millions of flowers of silky texture and color of gold fascinated the Spanish discoverers. An eminent botanist, Eschscholtz, at once classified the plant, and his followers conferred his name upon this the only native American papaver.

Dreamlike in beauty, fascinating from sheer loveliness, spreading in soft undulations over the land, the California poppy bloomed above the richest views and arteries of gold the world has ever known, all unsuspected. A Circe, with powers to please, dazzle and charm by its enchantments, while it allures, lulls and mystifies, this flower of sleep seemed to draw by some occult process from the earth the elixir of gold, unfolding its blooms of gold as beacons proclaiming, "We are blooming above rich mines of gold."

There is ever a mystery about the poppy. It is a weird flower. It is almost sentient, with a life unknown to human kind. "While glory guards with solemn tread the bivouac of the dead" stealthily a sea of gore creeps over the old battlefields. Blood red, the poppies in waves and billows hold high carnival above the soil that covers the slain. Lord Macaulay says of the battlefield of Neerwinden: "The summer after the battle the soil, fertilized by 20,000 dead, broke forth into millions of blood red poppies. The traveler from St. Trond to Tirlemont who saw that vast field of rich scarlet stretching from Landen to Neerwinden could hardly help fancying that the figurative description of the Hebrew prophet was literally accomplished; that "the earth was disclosing her blood and refusing to cover her slain." Bayard Taylor in "The Lands of the Saracen" says he contemplated with feelings he could not describe "the old battlefields of Syria, densely covered with blood red poppies, blooming in barbaric splendor, gloating on the gore of soldiers slain."

However interesting the poppy may be to men of science and to lovers of the beautiful, it is yet more so to the people of California. This beautiful, weird, gold colored flower of gossamer texture belongs to California alone. Nowhere else in the world has it ever made its habitat. There it is naturally so profuse that it is related as a fact that, coming on a turn full face upon a blooming field of yellow poppies, dazzling in the sunshine, horses have been put to flight as from flames of fire.—Home and Flowers.

The Limit.

"And the railway company agrees to settle by paying me $5,000, does it?" said the man who had been injured. "How much of it do I get?"

"You get all of it," said the lawyer, "and you pay me what you please. It didn't take me five minutes to get a settlement out of them."

This, O reader, is no fancy sketch. There are limits to the imaginative faculty of the human mind.—Chicago Tribune.

PERPETUAL MOTION.

One Inventor Has Accomplished It by Harnessing a Cyclone.

It was during the portion of his career when he lived in the valley of the south fork of the Big Sunflower river that Henry Plymshaw, the inventor, made his most notable invention. This invention had to do with cyclones.

One afternoon Inventor Plymshaw saw a splendid specimen of a funnel cyclone coming over the prairie, and he called to me and said he would go out and study it, since it was evident that it was going to one side. The instant the cyclone sighted us it came straight in our direction. We weren't prepared for this exactly, so all we could do was to run. We were just on the point of giving up when a most extraordinary thing happened. Curious thing. Sort of natural too. And there it was. Only one leg, and that down a fifty foot well in the middle of a sheep pasture. If it had had two legs, no doubt it could have scrambled out, but it couldn't make it with one. Couldn't do anything except revolve. And it did do that. I never saw a cyclone revolve like that one. Mad apparently because it had missed Plymshaw and me and got caught. So it just buzzed around like a top. Nothing in the world to stop it.

Most men—mere men of action—would have been satisfied at getting away and not having to revolve with the houses and lots, but not Plymshaw. No. He got to thinking, and what was the result? Put a belt around the stem of that cyclone just at the top of the well, set up a dynamo, strung wire and ran all the machinery and electric lights in that part of the country. Regular Niagara for power. Going yet. Nothing to stop it, you see. Wonderful what a thing mind is!—H. V. Marr in Harper's Magazine.

Coins of Early Days.

The early Biblical references to pieces of silver do not in the original convey the idea of coins, but of weights, shekels. The Mosaic "oblation to God" was a half shekel, and the shekel is explained by Josephus as equal to four Athenian drachmæ of a value of about 55½ cents in American money. The first Jewish coinage under authority was, it is believed, struck by Simon the Maccabee, about the year 140 B. C. It consisted of shekels and half shekels. This coinage had its value signified upon it, "Shekel Israel," in Samaritan characters.

Electric Centipeds.

Least attractive among the insects which give light are the so called "electric centipeds," black crawlers with many legs which have been likened to serpents' skeletons in miniature. They move in a snakelike fashion, forward or backward, leaving behind them a bright track of phosphoric light. However, they are most accustomed to appear in the daytime, when the illumination they afford is not visible.—London Times.

BUSINESS AMERICAN ART.

Not Mathematics, but a Matter of Creative Imagination.

"The idea of business in a country that has reached the height of its development is a dry as dust affair," says Hutchins Hapgood in Ainslee's. "It is the miserable system of keeping what one has, a system in which the temperament and the imagination do not play a part. The American, however, puts imagination into business. Business is the art of this country. To the American of affairs there are in his work excitement, charm and color. To him it is not a matter of mathematics, but of the creative imagination. Great processes, great inventions, great corporations—the organization of such things requires genius.

"Nobody is stupider, more avaricious and more economical in a small way than a French peasant or a German hausfrau. Nobody is less avaricious and more economical in a big way than a great American inventor, financier or business man. Through his brains production becomes cheaper and consequently more abundant, and more good to the common people thereby accrues than by all the small savings ever made since civilization began. It is better to be able to make than to save, and to make much a large outlay in money, energy and brains is necessary. To save pennies is a sign of commercial incompetence and national decline.

"When an individual or a nation begins a system of housekeeping on a small scale, it is a sign that the life-blood is ebbing. Old people, drier and less resourceful than young people, are notoriously more economical. They, like old nations, want to hang on to what they have rather than strive for more. The wisdom of the French peasant consists in keeping down his expenditure and the size of his family to a point where the nation as a whole is weakened. As Bacon said, 'He that hath a state to repair may not despise small things,' and perhaps the decay of the country is the cause rather than the effect of French economy. Anyway the two things hang closely together."

A Famous Compliment.

Of famous compliments paid to the fair sex the supply is so large and dazzling that it is a matter of no small difficulty to pick out the brightest gems, but if the following was unlooked for it certainly deserves a place among the best: Fontenelle when ninety years old passed before Mme. Helvetius without perceiving her.

"Ah," said the lady, "that is your gallantry, then! To pass before me without ever looking at me!"

"If I had looked at you, madame," replied the old beau, "I never could have passed you at all."

A Chance For Him.

"I am afraid," said the high browed bard, "that my poetry will never attract public attention."

"Cheer up!" said the loyal companion. "Maybe you'll get appointed to office one of these days, and then everybody will talk about your poetry."—Washington Star.

Wealth doesn't always bring happiness, but it can generally furnish a pretty good imitation.—Somerville Journal.

CHINESE WASTE PAPER.

Every Scrap With a Printed Character Upon It Is Sacred.

You will never find upon the street or in the rubbish heap a scrap of paper with Chinese characters written or printed upon it. An intelligent Chinaman, questioned as to the reason, explained the matter in this way:

"Melican man never tears up and tlows in street his Bible or hymnbook. Chinee liting all same to Chinaman as Melican man's Bible."

Then he still further elucidated the mystery by leading the way to the cellar of a Race street house, in which, piled up before a gigantic furnace, were bundles of paper and sacks of letters and newspapers printed in Chinese hieroglyphics.

Interpreted into plain English the old Chinaman's story was that the orientals regarded the written characters as so sacred that this furnace was especially set apart, after being blessed by the priests, for the incineration of all Chinese letters and documents.

So sacred indeed was the Chinese writing regarded by the orientals that the most compromising letters of the highbinders and the private correspondence of families were left with confidence in the care of the furnace attendant, it being perfectly well known that he would not risk his immortal soul by committing the deadly sin of prying into correspondence committed to his care to be given to the flames.

Nor does the oriental regard the Chinese writing as safe from the hands of the infidel even when every scrap of it has been reduced to ashes. After the paper has been burned the ashes are carefully collected, and when enough has accumulated to make a load they are shipped on board a boat belonging to the Chinese Merchants' company, by which society all such matters are managed, and taken to sea, where they are scattered over the surface of the ocean.

To the Chinaman it is horrifying to see the white man's newspapers used for wrapping purposes, his letters scattered around the streets to be walked on and his old books flung around when read as though of no more sacredness than old boots. A letter, an envelope, the printed slips extolling the virtues of preserved ginger or the characters that advertise a laundry for sale become, after their usefulness has passed, as sacred as the gilded ornaments that add to the glory of the joss.

One man is employed in Chinatown to collect the waste paper. He calls at the stores and the rooms and gathers it up with the utmost care, tying it in sacks so that not a shred shall escape. With his sacred burden he goes to the furnace room and hands the sacks to the important personage in charge there, who stows it away ready for the next burning day. Twice a week the furnace is lighted and the sacks of paper solemnly committed to the flames, with many incantations.—Philadelphia Record.

—Senator Hoar's next speech should be on the "eternal principles" as illustrated by the pilgrims when they landed on Plymouth Rock, and set up a government of their own, thus beginning a friction with the Indians that lasted for centuries. Mr. Hoar's logic condemns the whole course of human progress and brands as a despot the soldier who responds to the call of his government to fulfill international obligations. The Senator's mind, as well as his conscience, is superheated. His rhetoric is as hot and about as valuable as volcanic ashes.

TICKET NOMINATED.

The State Convention Held by Ohio Republicans has Finished Its Work.

EVERYTHING WAS HARMONY

Senator Hanna and Ex-Governor Bushnell Clasp Hands and Bury the Hatchet.

ALL THE LEADERS WERE CHEERED

CLEVELAND, May 29.—The republican state convention Wednesday nominated the following ticket:

Secretary of State—Lewis C. Laylin, of Norwalk.

Judge of Supreme Court—William B. Crew, of McConnellsville.

Food and Dairy Commissioner—Horace Ankeney, of Xenia.

Member of the Board of Public Works—William Kirtley, jr., of Defiance.

The convention, which has been a continued ovation all week to Senator Hanna, closed Wednesday evening with a great demonstration in his honor, to which he responded in a characteristic speech. The senator at former state conventions has sounded keynotes that were taken up by Republican Glee clubs. He told them Wednesday to sing "Keep on Letting Well Enough Alone" in the campaign rallies this year.

The convention was distinguished for harmony in the chorus for Hanna in all that was done. One of the last reconciliations was that of Senator Hanna and former Governor Asa S. Bushnell, of Springfield. The latter had been here all week, but Bushnell and Hanna never spoke as they passed each other's quarters. They had not spoken since the memorable contest for the senatorship in 1897. Before going to the convention Wednesday they met in the most cordial manner. The delegates who "got them together" gave glowing reports around the convention hall of the way they were calling each other "Mark and "Asa" again.

Senator Hanna and George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, also had a friendly farewell Wednesday night, after a contest during the day over nominations.

What were called the Hanna men won on all ballots, but Cox supported none of the winners. In making up the the state ticket Hanna and Cox were on opposing sides Wednesday, the same as in the contest for the organization of the legislature last January, but good feeling prevailed after the convention was over. While Senator Hanna was cheered as he entered the hall, as he announced the vote of his county delegation, of which he was chairman, as General Grosvenor and other speakers referred to him, and on other occasions the mention of the names of President Roosevelt, Senator Foraker, Governor Nash and others we also cheered. General Grosvenor was heartily received as the permanent chairman as was General Dick, when he read the resolutions which were adopted.

nominations had been made, said the candidates nominated will receive the unanimous support of the republicans of Ohio. Continuing, he said:

"We had a motto in the last convention, 'Let well enough alone.' I propose to offer an amendment to that, 'Keep on letting well enough alone.'

"There has been a consideration of state affairs, and especially of the work done by the legislature of our state, which will appeal to the people interested in sound, economic government, and will also appeal to those who have felt the burden of taxation and have sought relief and found it. There are questions of great interest in this campaign because we are called upon to vote for members of congress, who shall support our president during the balance of his administration."

"My friends, as we enter upon this contest in our state let us remember our martyred president, and inspired by the policies to which he had devoted his life which have made this country great and prosperous, let his spirit guide us and under that influence let us go forward, every man, with a determination to vindicate those policies.

"A new era is dawning upon this country. Our great developement has reached a point that has placed us in the front rank of nations, not only by the power and weight of our affairs, but also because we have become the greatest manufacturing and industrial nation of the world. That developement is a national consequence of the evolutions that are going on. Labor and capital are approaching each other in the proper spirit.

"I believe in organized labor, and I believe in organized capital as an auxiliary. These two great forces are working out the destinies of our country and they must be friendly. They must be ably and honestly administerd and they must be controlled.

"Our prospects are bright, and as I have said, we have entered upon this contest full of hope, because we are right and we will get there."

The Kind You Have Always Bought

DECORATION DAY.

BY REV. D. H. KENNEY.

Come from the city, farm, village and wildwood,
Mountain and valley and plain far away;
Young man and maiden, gray hairs and sweet childhood,
MEET by the mounds where our dead soldiers lay.

Roses and orchids, and lilies and sweet-peas,
Bluebells and daisies and goldenrod gay;
Marrigold, boxwood blue, violets and heartsease,
COME in your best dress and fragrance to day.

Lay on the graves of our heroes your homage,
Over the sleep of the brave waft your breath;
Bloom o'er the dust of immortal courage,
Tell of our heritage won with their death.

Silvered tongued orators, tell the old story,
Like a Demosthenees on the green sward,
When from the conquest emblazoned in glory
ROLLED home in triumph the old ROMAN GUARD.

Tell of the battles, the camp and the prison,
Tell of the forests and swamps where they lie
Dying alone 'neath the stars up in heaven
FANNED by no breeze but the winds passing by.

Tell of Antietam, of Richmond and Lynchburg,
Winchester, Fair Oaks and bloody Bull Run;
No. 10 Island, Fort Sumpter and Vicksburg,
Fire baptized altars where freedom was won.

Talk of the banners they bro't from the storming,
Tell when defeated were not in despair,
Speak of our ensign high masted each morning,
Each night untarnished, OLD GLORY was there.

Here this May morning beneath the sun's beaming,
Tenderly laying our tribute of love,
On the green sod, where our warriors lie dreaming,
Waiting the call of the bugle above,

Pledge we anew both our lives and our station,
Never to suffer dishonor to fall
On our brave Army, our Navy and Nation,
Nor on the OLD FLAG, that floats over all.

Saved From an Awful Fate.

"Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. M. A. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa., "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by hay fever and asthma, that few thought I could get well, but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, used it and was completely cured." For desperate throat and lung diseases it is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible for coughs, colds and bronchial affections. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Green's Pharmacy.

Arm Under Heavy Crusher.

While James McNerney, of Lock Haven who was working at the Pine Creek bridge near Jersey Shore Tuesday, was subjected to extreme pain for several minutes. He was directing the removal of the stone crusher from one location to another. Rollers were used, and as Mr. McNerney was in the act of straightening one of these rollers, his right arm was caught underneath, and was held fast by the heavy machine, which was moving slowly towards him and which weighs 19,000 pounds. The crusher ran far enough to cover the forearm almost to the elbow. With this heavy weight on his arm Mr. McNerney was compelled to bear the excruciating pain until jacks could be placed under the crusher and lifted. The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. Hayes, who found that while the arm was bruised and that there was an ugly laceration on the back of the hand, no bones were broken.

Virulent Cancer Cured

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts, of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 25c at Green's Pharmacy.

A Quiet Home Wedding.

A quiet home wedding was celebrated Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Eliza Walker on South Potter street. The contracting parties were Miss Lillie Walker, daughter of Mrs. Walker and Mr. John Houtz Jr. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Brown, pastor of the Evangelical church. The groom is in the employ of R. J. Schad & Brother.

Frequent Throbbing Headache.

There's many a cause for headache. Men are not often troubled by headaches. When they are it is generally due to biliousness or indigestion. But women have headaches which seem peculiar to their sex, frequent nervous throbbing headaches. Does it not seem as if such headaches peculiar to women must be at once related to womanly disease? Women who suffer with diseases peculiar to the sex do not realize the drain of vital strength and nerve force they undergo as a consequence of disease. It is this which causes the familiar headaches of sick women.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures such headaches by curing the cause—irregularity, weakening drains, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness. "Favorite Prescription" invigorates and tones up the entire system, encourages the appetite, quiets the nerves and gives refreshing sleep.

"I was troubled with congestion of the uterus and female weakness for five years," writes Mrs. Robt. Kerwin, of Albert, Hastings Co., Ont. "Was so weak and nervous I could hardly do any work. Had severe pain in back, also dizziness and pain in head. My heart would beat so hard and fast at times I would have to sit still till I got all right again. But after taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' I felt entirely well. I also used one box of 'Lotion Tablets' and one of 'Suppositories' as directed. All the symptoms of my trouble have disappeared and I am completely cured. I thank you for your kind advice and your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath.

Remove Loose Stones.

A number of inquiries have been made for the law relating to removing loose stones from the public roads and it is here reprinted.

Supervisors and others should save it for future reference.

"Section 1. That from and after the passage of this act the township supervisors and road commissioners of the several townships within this commonwealth, shall, by contract or otherwise, remove and take away the loose stones from the traveled roads or highways in such townships, at least once a month, during the months of May, June, August and October, in each year.

"Section 2. In case of neglect or refusal of the first section of this act, they shall forfeit and pay for every such offense, neglect or refusal, a fine or a penalty not exceeding $10, to be recovered by action for debt in the name of the commonwealth, before any justice of the peace or alderman of the county with costs of suit. One half of such fine to go to the informer or prosecutor, the other half to be applied to repairing the roads or highways.

Steam Power on the Farm.

The Howard Hustler states that steam is being used as the motive power for plowing instead of horses in some parts of Centre county. "Mr. Henry Kessinger and two sons of Eagleville station, were busy on Wednesday plowing with their new horse. They had a tracing engine hitched to two plows and one did the firing and kept the machine in motion while the other two held the plow handles. You would be surprised to see how nice it worked. It was in heavy sod and turned it over in good shape. This is a good way to plow when horses are scarce, but it makes those who work it sweat."

Ten Years in Bed.

R. A. Gray, J. P., Oakville, Ind., writes: "For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." C. M. Parrish.

Fatal Accident.

HUNTINGDON, May 30.—James Carey, a well known and substantial farmer of Jackson township, about three miles from McAlevy's Fort, was kicked on the jaw by a horse Tuesday evening and sustained instantly fatal injuries. He was leading a mule into the barn and in passing behind several head of horses one of latter kicked at the mule, but missed the animal and instead dealt Mr. Carey a violent blow. The jaw and neck were both broken and the unfortunate man died instantly. Mr. Carey was aged about 40 years and lived with his mother and two sisters.

—A camping party left Thursday afternoon for Laird Curtin's camp at Sand Hill, along the Bald Eagle. They took spring cots and everything else to make themselves comfortable, and as we failed to see any dynamite loaded up among their accoutrements we concluded that they intend to fish legitimately, but a little bit of it wouldn't have been a bad thing for cold mornings in camp—and they are likely to have a few. In the party were Chas. M. McCurdy, Jno. M. Dale, Harry Keller, John M. Shugert and John Curtin. They expect to be gone until Saturday.

Warning!

If you have kidney or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. C. M. Parrish.

JUDGE TAFT WAS POPULAR

With the Natives of the Far Off Philippines.

SO SAYS BUENCAMINO

Who Was Aguinaldo's Former Secretary of State—He Declares That Civil Goverment Aided by the Army is Restoring Order.

SOME FALSE REPORTS CORRECTED

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Senor Felipe Buencamino, who was one of the prominent leaders in the Aguinaldo government in the Phillippine Islands, and who was Secretary of State under Aguinaldo when captured, arrived in this city Thursday from Manila, coming by way of San Francisco. After his capture Buencamino reached the conclusion that it would be a good deal better for the Filipinos to accept American government than to try and establish one of their own. He said that he had been misled as to the purpose of the Americans, and he therefore took the oath of allegience to the United States and since that time has done what he could to have the Filipinos accept American government and to help pacify the islands. He called Thursday on President Roosevelt and on Secretary Root and will probably be a witness before the Senate committee investigating the Philippine question.

Senor Buencamino is a Spanish scholar, but does not speak English. He has two sons who are students at the University of California, and his principal object in coming to this country was to visit them. He is the leader of the Federal party of the Philippines. He told President Roosevelt that his mission to Washington was in part to correct some of the false reports put in circulation with a view of discrediting the work of both the civil government at the head of which is Judge Taft and also the regular army. In speaking on the subject he said:—

"The Filipinos are enjoying a better government now than they ever did in the past and they are rapidly becoming attached to American rule. I predict that it will not be long before all of the Filipinos will be proud of being attached to the United States and will be as loyal as the people in this country. The civil Government is doing wonderful work for the good of the islands and so is the army. Stories of cruelty perpetrated by soldiers have little or no foundation.

All of the right thinking Filipinos appreciate what is being done for them and they have great confidence in both the Taft Commission and in the army, and I think the time is not far distant when there will be practically no need of any army to keep order in any part of the Philippine Islands."

The stories of cruelties perpetrated by our soldiers, he said, were either wholly untrue or greatly exaggerated. The army had conducted itself in a way to excite praise from all right thinking Filipinos, and this, too, in the face of greatest temptations and provocations. Judge Taft's commission had the entire confidence of all rightly disposed natives, he said, and it was General Buencamino's hope that Judge Taft might be induced to remain an indefinite time at the head of the civil government.

The Filipinos, he said, love Judge Taft, for he has never once deceived them, and they know him to be their friend.

Journeyed on Foot to Parson's to Wed.

The Jersey Shore Vidette says Harry Yarrison and Miss Jennie Curts, who reside in 'Squire James McKeague's district in Crawford township, were married at the M. E. parsonage, Oriole, Nippenose Valley, at 12 o'clock at midnight. They made the journey to and from the parson's on foot, a distance of six miles. The minister of course had retired for the night, but he quickly donned his clothing, and the couple entered the parsonage and were soon made man and wife.

Happy Time in Old Town

"We felt very happy," writes R. N. Bevill, Old Town, Va., "when Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured our daughter of a bad case of scald head." It delights all who use it for cuts, corns burns, bruises, boils, ulcers, eruptions. Infallible for piles. Only 25c at Green's Pharmacy.

Death of a Historic Horse.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 30.—"Duke," a valuable and historic horse owned by "Buffalo Bill," died here Wednesday. A few days ago "Duke" was seriously kicked by another horse, and when the "Wild West" left here he was left behind for treatment. The horse, a large, handsome sorrel, 22 years old, was presented to Col. Cody by General Nelson A. Miles and had been ridden by General Miles in his Indian campaign.

Farmers' Institutes in Centre County

Beginning with the winter of 1899-90 when Dr. E. W. Hale represented the county on the State Board of Agriculture, thirty Farmers' Institutes have been held in this county at fourteen of the more prominent farming centres as follows:

Boalsburg, 2; Centre Hall, 3, Howard, 5; Hublersburg, 2; Madisonburg, 1; Milesburg, 1; Millheim, 2; Pine Grove Mills, 2; Port Matilda, 2, Rebersburg, 2; Spring Mills, 1; State College, 1; Stormstown, 2; Unionville, 3. Perhaps there are other places in the county where meetings of this kind could be properly accommodated, and would be appreciated; or it may be that some of these where but one or two have been held are ready for another.

The County Board of Managers whose duty it is to select the places for the two which will be held during the coming winter will meet at the office of the County Commissioners on the third Tuesday, of June 17th, at half past ten o'clock in the morning for this purpose. All communities which desire institutes should be represented at this meeting by a committee to present their claims. If impracticable to send a committee or address a letter with the request to

The Inimitable Wu.

At a recent debate at the Columbia University, in Washington, the gentlemen selected to act as judges were Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme court, ex-Senator Chandler, president of the Spanish claims commission, and the Chinese minister, Wu-Ting-Fang. At the conclusion of the debate the judges retired to consider the argument. When a decision was reached it was found the executive committee had neglected to designate which of the three gentleman was to act as chairman.

"Well," said Mr. Chandler, "I propose that Justice Harlan announce the decision, as that is part of his regular business, anyway."

"Yes," remarked the judge; "that's true; still I think we ought to go across the Pacific for our spokesman tonight."

"Oh, no," replied Minister Wu, promptly, "you Americans go across the Pacific for your Islands, not for your spokesmen."

Found at Lucerne, Switzerland.

Mrs. Nellie McCormick-Cochran, daughter of the late Hon. H. C. McCormick, who is traveling with her husband in Europe, was notified of her father's death while at Lucerne, Switzerland. She and her husband started for home at once. After the funeral services Friday afternoon the body of Mr. McCormick was placed in the receiving vault at Wildwood cemetery until Mrs. Cochran returns.

—The first open air concert of the summer season was given Memorial Day evening in front of the Bush House by the Coleville band. As usual it was excellent.

A Thrilling Experience.

Mrs. James Gilliland, of Oak Hall, had a thrilling experience, and only by great presence of mind and heroic action were three of her children's lives saved after going through a wreck and being pitched over a bridge into a creek by a horse that shied and backed.

Mrs. Gilliland and her children were on their way to visit Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Gilliland's mother, Friday of last week, when all this happened. They were driving the family horse, but on reaching the public road the horse took fright at a pile of stones lying by the wayside, began to back and finally the buggy, occupants and horse landed in the creek, having made a descent of ten or twelve feet.

How to escape from this peculiar predicament was the question to be quickly solved by the mother. The conclusion was speedily arrived at—the boy aged about five years was thrown out on the bank; next, a little girl about three and one-half years old was landed on the green, but in the meantime the baby boy floated down the creek. The mother made a mad rush for her lost treasure and recovered it.

Thoroughly soaked with water, thoroughly frightened, thoroughly satisfied with the fortunate turn of affairs, the family awaited help.

None of the children were injured of any account except the little girl, who received a cut about the head.

One of the buggy wheels was crushed to pieces, and the rig otherwise damaged.

Rich Bride Proved a Myth.

A Chicago special says that Daniel Conright, a farmer who has lived 62 years in Bradford county, Pa., came to Chicago this week lured by the vision of a bride with the neat sum of $80,000. He came there to meet for the first time his fiancee. She was not at the appointed place, but instead he was found by Mrs. Mary Thompson, a matron for the visitation and aid society, who led him to the East Chicago Avenue police station. Conright answered an advertisement sent out by a matrimonial agency and the address of the expected bride was given as 67 North Clark street. He said he would return to his farm at once and stay there.

Local Department.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Garis are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy at their home on Dunlop street.

—Years of suffering relieved in a night. Itching piles yield at once to the curative properties of Doan's Ointment. Never fails. At any drug store. 50 cents.

—Mr. and Mrs. John S. Furst, of Williamsport, are the proud possessors of a baby girl that arrived at their home last Friday.

—A household necessity. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

—Thomas Hewitt has succeeded David Kennedy as engineer on conductor J. H. Cook's train between Montandon and Bellefonte.

—"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." —Mrs. Charles Hutton, Berville, Mich.

—The handsome home of Mrs. Rhoads on West Linn street, which has been undergoing some extensive repairs and improvement, is now ready for occupancy and, with her family, she expects to return to it this week.

—Miss Celia Armor had the misfortune of falling off the porch steps at Dr. E. S. Dorworth's home on Saturday evening. Her face and eyelids were very badly bruised. We sincerly hope she will speedily recover.

—Messrs. C. H. Hoffman, John Devine and Wm. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, composed a party of three jolly fishermen who had been down near Lamar, at the foot of Paddy mountain for the past week. They were very lucky in their catch of the speckled beauties. They were guests on Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. Will Conley's home on Logan street.

—Wm. Carson's two horse farm team ranaway Monday morning about 11 o'clock and as a result a front wheel was smashed by colliding with the telephone pole at the corner near Parrish's drug store. The runaway started in the alley near the Crider's Exchange and the horses were stopped at the rear of the public building, without injury to anyone. Sandy Wilson was the driver of the team.

—Tuesday morning, about 2 o'clock, fire was discovered in the store of R. P. Miller & Son, located in the old stone office at the forge. An alarm was turned in and the fire companies were soon on the scene. However when they reached the place the fire was already out. The origin of the fire is believed to have been incendiary, as one of the windows was found open. The loss is placed at $1,000, fully covered by insurance. Mr. Frank Clemson, who discovered the fire and gave the alarm, wishes to thank the fire companies for so promptly responding.

—Mrs. Isaiah Zimmerman died at her home in Northville on the 20th of May of Brights disease. Her maiden name was Isabella C. Thomas of Pine Grove, Mrs. John Mitchell took her when her parents died when she was a little girl and raised her. On November 14th, 1871 she was married to Mr. Zimmerman and a few years afterwards they moved to Kansas where they have lived a very happy life together until death separated them. She is survived by her husband, three daughters and one son.

—Invitations are out for the marriage of Tillie M. Harmer, of 2830 Columbia avenue, Philadelphia, to Dr. Harry Wilson Tate, the ceremony to take place on Wednesday evening, June 18, at 8 o'clock, at Grace Baptist Temple, Broad and Berks streets, Philadelphia. Dr. Tate is one of leading dentists and has made hosts of friends during the three years he has resided here. Our only regret is that he had to go so far from home to secure a life partner, when there are so many beautiful, accomplished and worthy young ladies to select from in Bellefonte, but we presume all arrangements had been made before locating here.

FURNACE FIRES LIGHTED.

Little Sarah Clemson Applys Torch to Nittany Furnace.

Wednesday afternoon an event of unusual importance to the industrial interests of Bellefonte took place when little Sarah Clemson, the three year old daughter of Supt. Frank H. Clemson, applied the torch to the fires that set in motion the wheels of industry at the New Nittany Iron furnace (formerly the Valentine furnace) at this place.

The fires were started at exactly 5 o'clock in the presence of quite a number of spectators and assembled workmen. As the torch was applied by the little tot three ringing cheers were given and an industry long idle was again in operation bringing untold blessings to the several hundred men to whom it gives employment,

May it long continue to be one of the substantial industries of our pretty little city.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Orders Amounting to $1704.90, were Drawn—The Water Meter Question Comes up Again.

The regular semi-monthly session of council met Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock with President Reynolds in the chair and the following members present: Potter, Knisely, Kirk, Mallory and Derstine.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved after which verbal communications were called for.

Burgess Blanchard has devolved a plan for keeping the streets clean of paper etc. during the coming summer months. Ten merchants have agreed to pay a certain sum each week towards having a drayman hired to haul the accumulated debris away each morning between the hours of 7 and 8. He asked council to defray the expense which would be light, which should be incurred above what was contributed by the merchants. This was referred to the Street Committee.

Francis S. Rhoads asked to be excused from building a board walk along his property on East Linn street. He has a crushed lime stone pavement there which he claims is perfectly satisfactory. It is the same kind that extends along Linn street at the Stone school house.

The Water committee reported that they were preparing to put in the new pump, water wheel and forebay at the water works.

Boro Solicitor D. F. Fortney handed in an opinion in which he stated that the boro was liable for the stone wall and side walk on Water street.

Council was of the opinion that Mr. Rhoads should lay a board walk along his property; it so instructed the Street committee. Council thought it a dangerous precedent to allow a person to dump down ashes or any old thing and call it a side walk.

Mr. Potter of the Finance committee suggested that perhaps it would be better to increase the interest tax ½ mill over the millage fixed at last meeting. Some of the councilmen did not think it expedient to raise the millage so the matter dropped.

Dr. Kirk moved that all water consumers who have meters be charged according to said meters after the 1st of July. He then read a statement prepared by himself which seemed to show that water consumers are charged unequally now but under the meter system they would pay for just what they consume.

For instance the REPUBLICAN office now pays 4½ cents a thousand gallons while the Gazette pays 2½ cents for the same amount. The McCulley livery pays 7 cents per thousand gallons and the Palace Livery pays 3 5-6 cents, while Baum's livery pays 14 cents. The Bush House pays 1½ cents and the Brant House 7 cents per 1000 gallons.

Dr. Kirks resolution was seconded by Mr. Potter and adopted.

Death of a Bright Little Child.

Monday morning the peaceful angel of death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyer on Blanchard street, and carried hence into the realms af glory the life spirit of their little son William Roy Boyer.

During Easter time the lad contracted the measles and was getting along nicely, when he took cold which affected his lung where an abcess formed, and about three weeks ago an operation was performed. He seemed to be recovering when it was noticed his other lung was becoming diseased, and gradually grew worse until the little fellow could stand it no longer, and God called him home. He was a patient sufferer through all sickness and when the end was near he told his friends he was happy and ready to go.

He was a very bright lad and was a popular student in Miss Bella Rankins room in the brick building on Bishop street. He was also a good christian boy and a member and a regular attendant at the United Evangelical Sunday School on Willowbank street. He leaves to mourn his death his father and mother, three sisters namely Grace, Helen and Adaline.

The funeral services occurred on Wednesday morning at eight o'clock Rev. William Brown officiating. Interment at Zion.

LOST—A Gordon setter; black body with brown legs. Finder will please notify Philip D. Foster at State College.

THE ALUMNI RECEPTION.

Brilliant Social Event Held by High School Alumni in Honor of Class of '02.

An unusually pretty and successful social event transpired Tuesday evening in the armory of Co. B; we refer to the first annual reception and luncheon of the Bellefonte High School Alumni, given in honor of the graduating class of the High school.

The alumni of this institution has been organized less than a year, but last night's success assures beyond question the permanency of this institution. To Prof. Meyer is due the credit for having inaugurated the movement for an Alumni Association, and in view of Tuesday night's event the only wonder is that it was never thought of before.

The armory was was beautifully decorated for the occasion and over 350 guests were in attendance. The High school graduates acted as a reception committee. The reception lasted from 8:30 until 10, after which the young people tripped the light fantastic until the wee sma' hours. Excellent music was furnished for the occasion by Christy Smith's orchestra.

During the evening a delightful luncheon was served, the caterer being Charles Harrison.

The committees in charge were composed as follows:

Arrangements, ex-officio, Harry Keller, George R. Meek, Boyd A. Musser.

Acting Committee on Arrangements: Hugh S. Taylor, Rose J. Fox, Harris B. Heylman, Alice K. Doworth, Bert Robb, Lillie M. Smith, D. Paul Fortney.

Refreshments: Boyd A. Musser, Paul Fortney.

Decorations: Hardman P. Harris.

The event was strctly an Alumni event. The Academy teachers and members of the press being the only outsiders invited.

—Perhaps the prettiest show window in Bellefonte is that of Joseph Brothers & Co. It represents a ship that has been launched into the deep and is looking for a place to anchor. The motto of the Graduating class of the Bellefonte High School this year is "Launched, where to anchor." The hull of the ship is of a dark Gray trimmed in Red, and the flags Red and white and Gray and Red are on the masts. It is worth your time to go and see this pretty window.

MRS. WILLIAM K. MARSHALL.

Death of Former Centre County Lady at Allegheny City.

The many friends of the Marshall family in Bellefonte and vicinity were deeply shocked Friday morning when the news reached here of the death of Kathryn, wife of Wm. K. Marshall, which sad event occurred at her home in Allegheny City Tuesday evening at 6:30. Mrs. Marshall had been a sufferer from cancer of the stomach for about one year and on the Thursday previous she submitted to an operation from the effects of which she never rallied.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Kathryn Haveracker, was the daughter of Wm. Haveracker, deceased, and was born in Milesburg 27 years ago this month. She was married to Wm. K. Marshall, of this place, at Camden, N. J., about nine years ago. For some time past they have been residents of Allegheny, where Mr. Marshall is employed as a telegraph operator.

Deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. Martha Haveracker, of Fillmore; her husband and the following children: Helen, George Earle and Ruth.

Two sisters also survive, namely: Mrs. Reuben Crust, of Fillmore, and Mrs. John F. Laurie, of Tyrone.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte Saturday morning and taken to the residence of Mrs. Lucy Cox on East Logan street, where the funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives and many beautiful floral tributes graced the casket of the deceased.

The services were conducted by Rev. Wilford P. Shriner, assisted by Dr. Wm. Laurie.

The casket bearers were Messrs. Thomas Moore, Sydney Krumrine, J. Will Conley and Harry Jenkins.

Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

The Primary Election.

The Republican primary elections, held throughout Centre County Saturday afternoon and evening, passed off quietly. A few days ago it looked as though a bitter fight would be precipitated between the followers of Elkin and Pennypacker, but on Thursday night a compromise was effected by which Elkin gets one delegate and Pennypacker the other.

The returns indicate beyond a doubt that the convention will select John P. Harris, of Bellefonte, and George W. Hoover, of Philipsburg, as delegates to the State convention. Harris is for Pennypacker and Hoover for Elkin. The delegates, however; will be uninstructed.

The compromise between the two factions was brought about by the candidates for local offices, as they feel confident that the Republican county ticket can be elected this Fall if factional fights are obliterated.

The delegates to the county convention elected in the boro are as follows:

North Ward—Hard P. Harris, George A. Bayard, Sr., James Morrison, Edmund Blanchard, W. E. Gray, H. H. Harshberger, J. L. Montgomery.

South Ward—Wm. Rinesmith, Henry Brown, W. C. Cassidy, J. W. Houser.

West Ward—R. S. Brouse, S. H. Williams, Earle C. Tuten.

The convention met at noon to-day.

The Democrats also held their primaries Saturday afternoon and evening. Their convention next Tuesday will instruct its two delegates to the Democratic State Convention to support Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard, Center county, for Governor, and its conferees for J. K. P. Hall for Congress and W. C. Heinle for State Senator.

The returns indicate that the following ticket will be named next Tuesday by the Democrats: Legislature, J. W. Kepler, of Ferguson Township; Henry Wetzel, Bellefonte; Sheriff, H. S. Taylor, Bellefonte; Register, A. G. Archey, Ferguson Township; Recorder, James Forman, Centre Hall; Treasurer, W. J. Carlin, Miles Township; commissioners, P. H. Meyer, of Boalsburg; John Dunlop, Spring Township.—Monday's Daily News.
